2 REQUESTS REJECTED BY ZONING PANEL

Light Industry Pleas 'Not Hardship,' Says Board

SOLICITORS GIVE ADVICE AT MEETING

Two variances for light industry Thursday were rejected by the zoning board of adjustments.

The board met for an hour and 15 minutes before turning thumbs down on zoning requests by James A. Wilke's furniture store, Queen and Madison streets, and by Manuel M. Berman for a property at 217 North Franklin street.

Both petitioners pleaded "un-necessary hardship" as the basis for zoning changes.

The zoning board was unanimous, however, in its decision that "no un-necessary hardship was shown by either man."

BEFORE rejecting the pleas for a change from commercial to light industrial zoning, the board sought advice from borough solicitor C. Edmund Wells and assistant solicitor Ronald Reynier. The special conference was in Wells' office, 410 High street.

The furniture store would have housed 60 sewing machines to make children's clothes. The North Franklin street property would have been used for a one-man plastics business.

HUNTER FIRM, UNION SIGN 1 YEAR PACT

Wage Adjustments Provided In Contract

A one year contract has been reached between E. V. Hunter corporation and the Textile Workers union.

A contract at the plant in Stowe ended March 15 and negotiations were practically at a stalemate since. There were just two union-management meetings in the interim.

The new pact will bring wage adjustments from five to 20 cents an hour to time workers. Piece rate employes will receive four cents an hour more. The minimum wage will be $1.25 an hour.

The 100 employes at the plant also will get a half holiday with pay on Good Friday. All terms will be retroactive to March 15 and will end on that date in 1961.

Simon Saller, manager of the TWA joint board, 1304 High street, was principal negotiator for the union.

Pottstown Man Found Injured

A Pottstown man was found lying injured along Route 100 by an unidentified motorist Thursday night and taken to Bally borough hall.

The injured man is Andrew Motko, 29 North Washington street. Motko is crippled on his right side as the result of a motorcycle accident in 1952.

According to Bally Police Chief Edward Gehris, Motko said he was riding in a car and the driver demanded $50. When he refused to give him the money, Motko said, the driver struck him in the face and shoved him from the moving car.

Motko suffered injuries to his right shoulder in the fall, but did not require immediate medical attention.

Young In Heart

Mrs. Celesta Kern smiles as she looks up from her sewing at her home in Pennsburg. The charming lady, who will be 92 tomorrow, wears no glasses and is able to thread a needle with ease. Far from being handicapped by her age, Mrs. Kern does all her own housework and is an active member of the Upper Perkiomen Valley Golden Age club.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Woman, 92, Looks Ahead With Cheer

Mrs. Celesta Kern will celebrate her 92nd birthday tomorrow the same way she has celebrated all her previous ones—with a smile and an optimistic belief that the future holds only good things.

Still active despite her age, the trim little lady lives alone in the home her late husband converted from an auto body paint shop more than three decades ago.

Thursday Mrs. Kern's chief concern was with "manicuring" her lawn and the hedge in front of her home.

On days when she is not puttering about the house or sewing—she has quilted more than 80 bedspreads in her time—Mrs. Kern can be found at the Styer Convalescent home in Pennsburg.

The institution is run by her granddaughter's husband, Carl Styer. Mrs. Kern likes to "help around the place," and often goes there to do her sewing.

Her only complaint is her legs, which she says "get tired a lot easier than they used to."

Thursday she was chuckling about one of her birthday presents—a pair of open-toe slippers. The little Pennsylvania German lady was pleased with the thought behind them, but she admitted she was unable to get very enthused about wearing them.

BOY CALLED 'DANGEROUS' BY OFFICER

Attacker of Woman Sent to State School

Harold Johns, 15, admitted wrench-wielding attacker of a prominent local woman, was committed to the Pennsylvania Industrial school, Camp Hill, for an indeterminate term Thursday by Judge E. Arnold Forrest.

The youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Johns, 560 Prospect street, was committed to the Cumberland county correctional institution for boys after a hearing in juvenile court, Norristown, in which he was labelled "dangerous" by the chief juvenile probation officer.

Johns was arrested May 20 for attacking Mrs. Valeria (Brooke) Anastasia, wife of Dr. John J. Anastasia, a physician at Coatesville Veterans Administration hospital.

He told police that he broke into the Anastasia home on

POTTSGROVE GRADUATES 54 PUPILS

'Use Influence, Pursue Truth,' Speaker Warns Class

Fifty-four Pottsgrove High school pupils stepped off the school auditorium stage Thursday night into adulthood.

They made up the 1960 graduation class for which comment exercises were held in the modern two and a half year old school.

Close to 900 pupils, parents and friends watched the solemn procession of Seniors take their places in the center front of the auditorium.

Girls wore white caps and gowns and boys red—class colors. Motto of the class is "The Past Forever Gone, The Future Still Our Own."

THE COMMENCEMENT address was given by the Rev. W. Carter Merbreier, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, Philadelphia. Title of his talk was "Packaging Influence."

He told the Seniors to ap-

Understanding Achieved, But Issues Still Remain

AUTHORITY, COUNCIL NOW IS FRIENDLY

A closed-door meeting has brought accord between East Greenville borough council and the Upper Montgomery sewer authority. But nothing is settled.

Council was angry with the authority over a Main street versus backalleys route for sewer pipes. A special meeting earlier this month ended with legal threats against the authority.

John Keelor, authority president, called a peace making session and an

FEDERAL JURY INDICTS MAN ON 5 COUNTS

Charged With Failing To Get Gambling Stamp

John F. Hyneman Sr., of Boyertown RD 3, was indicted Thursday by a Federal grand jury on five counts of failing to obtain a $50 gambling tax stamp.

He faces a fine of up to $5000 on each of the five counts, according to U. S. Attorney Walter E. Alessandroni. The jury is sitting in Philadelphia.

Hyneman, 66, was sentenced in 1957 to a three to twelve months term for lottery stemming from the operation of a Pheasantland bingo hall. Authorities say he has a criminal record dating back to 1930 bootlegging activities.

The jury handed down indictments on 14 others for failure to obtain the gambling tax stamp, failure to pay the special occupation tax on wag-

'Oil Empire' Dreams Fizzle With Arrest Of Man as Fugitive

Riches Promised When Wells Gushed

Ohio Authorities Charge Man With Sales of Fraudulent Oil Securities

By ROBERT WOODS
(Mercury Staff Writer)

A smooth-talking, elderly gentleman with sweeping plans to build an oil empire in this area was arrested shortly after 4 p. m. Thursday. The charge—fraudulent oil stock sales in two Ohio counties.

Charles Edward Walters, 70, was nabbed in the lobby of the Boyertown inn, Boyertown, a short time before he planned to check out of his room.

His arrest by Pottstown Police Chief Harold Hahn on a fugitive warrent toppled the dream world Walters had spun for residents of the Landis Store area over the past two weeks.

Walters is wanted in Auglaize and Mercer counties, Ohio, for selling fraudulent oil securities. He was committed to Montgomery county prison, Norristown, Thursday evening after undergoing extensive questioning at borough hall.

Hahn said that at present there are no area charges against Walters.

Walters refused to waive extradition rights. He'll be confined in Norristown until Governor Lawrence decides whether to send him back to Ohio to face authorities there.

ACCORDING TO the sheriff's office in Auglaize county, Walters was indicted by the grand jury there early in 1958 for sell-

ZERN ENTERS LOW BID FOR POSTOFFICE

Pottstown Contractor Appears Assured Of Job

Pottstown contractor Warren B. Zern entered the low bid for construction of Pottstown's new postoffice at High and Madison streets. It was just $30 lower that that of the next bidder and $65 lower than the third lowest bid. Zern was the only local bidder.

Bids were opened Thursday at the Postoffice department in Washington, D.C., and will be awarded next week. Unless a late mail bid is received, postmarked before Tuesday midnight, Zern is practically assur-

Charles Edward Walters is shown leaving borough hall Thursday evening prior to being committed to the county prison. Walters was arrested in Boyertown late in the afternoon on a fugitive warrant charging him with fraudulent sale of oil stocks in Ohio. He shook hands warmly with Police Chief Harold Hahn as he was escorted from the chief's office, and said he had "never been treated with more courtesy by a police officer."

'Effervescent, Genuine' Walters Has Colorful Record With FBI

What kind of man is Charles Edward Walters?

His appearance reveals one facet of his personality.

His record reveals another.

Walters looks and plays the part of the well heeled businessman. His dress is dapper, his walk as sure and jaunty as that of a man half his age.

He smiles easily and often. His manner is gracious, even courtly. He's as free with the big, expensive-looking cigars he keeps in his shirt pocket as he is with words.

One of the persons he approached said that Walters had an "effervescent personality, a winning way, a genuineness."

His handshake is firm, his gaze level.

THE RECORD, however, tells a different story.

Walters' first known scrape with the law came in 1924, when he was picked up in Montreal, Canada, for investigation. He was later discharged. At that time he was using the name of William Ellsworth.

In 1933, while using the name of Edwin Mayer, Walters spent

WIDOW ASKS ASSETS SPLIT FROM COURT

Mrs. Florence Leh Files Equity Action

The widow of a deceased Pottstown druggist Thursday brought an equity action at the Montgomery County Courthouse to force his former partner to divide the assets of the business they shared and the apartment building in which it is located.

The suit was filed by Attorney Robert Trucksess and former Judge Harold G. Knight in behalf of Mrs. Florence A. Leh, of Ridge pike, Lower Pottsgrove township, against Maurice and Marion Kressen, of 905 North Franklin street.

The plaintiff is the widow of Richard G. Leh, who died Oct. 2, 1959.

The business in dispute is the Sunset Pharmacy which is located in a building at 10-12-14 Moser road. The structure was purchased jointly by Mr. and Mrs. Leh and the defendants on April 8, 1952.

IN THE complaint, Mrs. Leh contends that under terms of the agreement, she, as surviving widow, is now the owner of a

Memorial Day Holiday Keynote Will Be Safety

The Memorial day weekend will be rough on State troopers.

The holiday will bring full force alerts at Jeffersonville, Reading and Thorndale barracks. The onslaught of traffic and expected accidents probably will hit a peak today and Monday between 4 and 9 p. m.

There were 310 traffic deaths in Pennsylvania last Memorial day, and most occurred in that time.

To cope with traffic tieups and accidents, there will be a third more Reading troopers on duty around the clock in the next three days.

Capt. George Sauer said "Even finger print men and detectives will patrol the highways."

Christians Pause to Note Ascension Day Services

The importance of the Ascension Day was pointed up by the Rev. Kenneth E. Buckwalter, pastor of Searles Memorial Methodist church, Thursday night in one of a number of services in Pottstown commemorating the Christian Great Feast day.

Approximately 50 uniformed members of Nativity commandery 71, Knights Templar, marched in procession and attended the Methodist service.

The day was marked by vacation from studies for children of all parochial schools and by Roman Catholic and Greek Catholic masses throughout the morning and part of the afternoon.

Ascension Day is a "Holy Day of Obligation" for Catholics when they must attend a mass on penalty of committing a mortal sin.

MORE THAN 150 persons attended the service at Searles church.

The members of Knights Templar marched into the High School Senior Wins Scholarship

A Pottstown High school Senior finished as runner-up in a State scholarship examination given to 7000 Pennsylvania high school youngsters.

Anthony I. Kostiner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kostiner, 930 North Evans street, won the $200 per year State scholarship for Montgomery county.

The youth said Thursday, however, that he cannot accept the award because he plans to attend an out-of-State school, Brandeis university, Walthan, Mass.

Rain Expected To Usher In Cool Holiday

If you're planning a Memorial Day picnic, you can probably leave the raincoat and umbrella home, but you'd better take along a sweater.

The weatherman says that the skies will be fair, but temperatures will be cooler than normal.

But before the weather clears for the three day holiday weekend, it will be umbrella and raincoat weather. The official forecast predicts partly cloudy skies this morning and scattered showers and thunderstorms this afternoon and evening.

The temperatures will remain in the low and mid 70s, a few degrees higher than the 70 to 72-degree temperature that was recorded Thursday afternoon.

By tomorrow morning the sky should clear, beginning the holiday weekend with clear skies

A Last Few Words

YOU get tired of reading safety editorials. Sure, you do.

We get tired of writing them, too, because as the highway toll piles up it seems safety campaigns have no effect. But we never know how many lives are saved. We only know how many lose their lives.

Take this Memorial Day holiday weekend. It may be a three-day splurge of murder.

Last year 310 motorists lost their lives in Memorial Day highway accidents. What will the toll be this year?

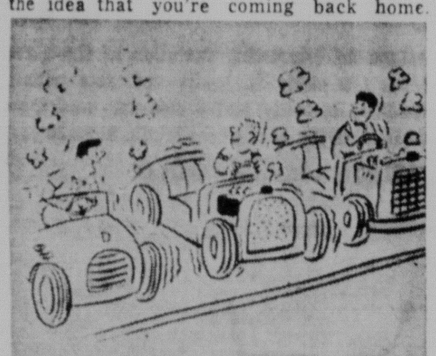
If you won't do anything else, read these few notes. They need no comment:

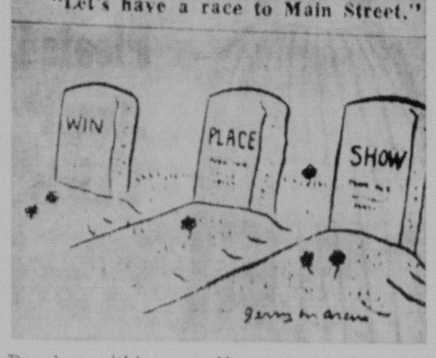
Motor vehicle accidents take more lives annually than any other major class accident—home, public or work.

A drinking driver is involved in three out of ten motor vehicle accidents.

Social drinkers can be real accident makers. While the obvious drunk usually attracts attention to himself, the social drinker may appear normal—until his wits fail him in an emergency.

When you drive this weekend drive with the idea that you're coming back home.





Develop within yorself care, caution and courtesy at the wheel.

Highway slaughter is tragic because it is needless and senseless. There is ample evidence that the tremendous cost in lives can be reduced. In that evidence is a challenge that is a reproach to society unless we meet it boldly.

PUNKIN CORNERS,

Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where Britain's talkative Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery says he knew even before it was scheduled to start that the Paris Summit conference would be a flop. NOW he tells us!

Meanwhile, it's revealed the French spent $1,200,000 in preparation for the Summit confab. Pretty expensive for a party that never came off!

Big league baseball contests this year are lasting far too long, complains a sports writer. Maybe they're now playing the game in slow motion.

And say: If the Olympic games this year included an event for monkey-wrench throwers, Mr. K. would win hands down.

Hopin' you air the same,

How to Live Long

To the Editor: I'm an oldster too.

Since old age has come to stay with me, I have to do much budgeting.

I work one hour and rest two hours. Some days I do only what it takes to get by.

Not many years ago I walked three miles every day at a fast clip. Now, I walk two miles slowly every fourth day.

I get around very little. Home is the place for me. It is a mighty good place to be.

I also have to budget my reading and writing, two hours of each every day.

When you are old you have to budget your eating, excitement and enthusiasm. You can't let it run wild.

All of this doesn't mean that you should lose interest in all things. Far from it. If you do you are "a goner."

If you want to hang around a long time get on the budget wagon.

Teachers Earn Pay

To the Editor: In reference to the letter by "I Miss Eating," ("State Under Pays Employes," Readers Say, May 24) I ask this:

Did your husband who works for the Commonwealth and is so poorly paid, go to college four years to prepare for his job?

I doubt it!

Does he have to go to college each Summer, or Saturday and evenings to study subjects required to keep up to date with his profession?

That costs money, you know.

If you would take the time to visit a school for one whole day and see the job most of our teachers are doing, you certainly would have a different outlook.

Teachers certainly earn their money and I think they are entitled to the same rate of pay as others with the same amount of education.

Boyertown, R.D. 2 INTERESTED

Waste of Money

To the Editor: Most of us agree that public funds should not be used for the propagation of the Christian faith.

It follows, does it not, that public funds should not be used for the propagation of a pagan religion.

What is to be said therefore, with reference to the action of the United States Information Agency in publishing 400,000 copies of The Life of Buddha in Thailand, where the book was used by Embassy and United States Information Service officials as an item for personal presentation?

The separation of church and state should surely include separation from pagan religions as well as from the Christian religion.

Russia a Bully

To the Editor: Communist Russia is a bully and should be recognized and dealt with as such.

Bullies like to walk away clean, but in this age it is an absolute impossibility.

So why the large panic?

Pennsburg R-M

Glimmer of Hope

To the Editor: Mr. Khrushchev first called on God to witness his purity, then later accused the devil of pushing the United States into the spy flight.

Those are strange words coming from an atheist. Is it possible that Mr. K. is beginning to defect?

No one would be more aware of it than his presidium in Moscow.

Perhaps he can't go along with the rules that have been laid down for him and a later conference may be attended by another Premier.

I am beginning to see a glimmer of hope. We are going to have to exercise that very precious element called patience.

Pottstown RD CHURCHGOER

John L. Against Nik?

To the Editor: Who do we have to put up against Ham Actor Nik?

How about old American Ham Actor John L. Lewis?

He could shake his eyebrows at Nik and swear at him in Shakespeare. He could glower at Nik and thunder at him in Old Testament.

Also old John L. knows more about capitalists than does Nik or most anybody else.

Could be some show.

JAMES DARREN, the teen-age idol, is in England undergoing a serious eye operation. His studio is hanging on every word out of London.

The producers of the Shakespeare festival at Stratford tossed a big cocktail party so all the members of the company could mingle under chummy circumstances.

Staff members of the Washington (D. C.) Star are still buzzing about the picture that appeared in the five-star edition the other day but more or less died there. It showed a woman named Mrs. Leonard Kater heckling Senator Kennedy by trotting onstage with a blown-up photograph while he was making a speech at the Maryland university field house.

Her mission remains a big mystery—and nobody (certainly not the gazette that published the photo in one edition) has done anything to clarify the incident.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

DONNIE B., aged 4, is left handed.

"Dr. Crane, what should we do?" his worried mother began.

"I have heard that it makes a child stutter if you try to change him from using his left hand and convert him into a right hander.

"But many tools and musical instruments, as well as school desks, are built for right handers, aren't they?

"So wouldn't it be better for Donnie to become right handed?"

Perhaps 5 percent of people are left handed. That's 1 in 20. Why?

Some people used to think it was due to left vs. right sided brain dominance.

Changing a lefty into use of his right hand has no ill effects if you do it in a tactful manner and don't keep yelling at the child incessantly.

It was the yelling and consequent nervous tension that caused a larger percentage of left handers to stutter.

One theory of right versus left handedness, is the fact that before birth, while in the mother's womb, most babies have the right hand free but the left is more constricted.

And anything which causes one hand to be used more than the other, predisposes the child to use the more experienced hand.

Suppose, for example, that your baby uses both hands equally during the first day after his birth.

YOU CAN then make him a lefty or right hander just by the tactful way in which you upset that 50-50 balance.

A pillow that presses against the left hand, will thus cause him to favor the right. Or if you reach down and shake his right hand or offer him his toys on the right side of his body, he will tend to use the nearest hand, which is thus the right hand.

If, after a week, that original 50-50 balance has been changed till he has used the right hand 60 percent of the time, we now have a 60-40 ratio in favor of the right hand.

And you can easily change a right hander into a southpaw by the same strategy.

Donnie's mother is correct in saying school equipment, tools and even musical instruments are usually better adapted to our use of the right hand.

So, from the practical angle, it is better to be right handed.

Inside Television

By EVE STARR

STARR REPORT: Art Linkletter's "House Party," a sort of radio-TV version of a hometown newspaper, reeled off its 15th year and 2000th show recently.

This event prompted Linkletter and his partner, John Guedel, to buy a lunch for the press. Unlike most such press luncheons, Art also invited the entire "House Party" staff, including two secretaries.

Actually, they were vice presidents. Every employe of Guedel Productions, from the switchboard girl on up, is a vice president, and each has a handsomely engraved business card to prove it.

"I JUST FIGURED," Guedel told us at lunch, "that maybe people would enjoy seeing just plain, everyday kids instead of a bunch of young geniuses."

The show has expanded to include everything from a 105 year old father to an interview with Cecil B. DeMille, but Linkletter's interviews with just plain kids have always remained an integral part of the format.

A few years ago, in fact, these were edited into a syndicated film series and Linkletter also has published a book on the subject.

The relationship between Guedel and Linkletter has been one of the modern wonders of Hollywood. If they have ever had a serious argument, no one has ever heard about it. Each has a finely-honed sense of humor, each enjoys his own work and each is a millionaire, probably several times over.

GUEDEL WOULDN'T be caught dead in front of the cameras, and Linkletter wants no part of the behind-the-scene administrative work. Most of their people have been with them for years.

Their former publicity man is now head writer for "House Party." Edith Head, a scared-to-speak fashion consultant, is now one of Hollywood's top designers and never stops thanking Art for teaching her how to talk on her feet. Irv Atkins, who produced the first "House Party" show 15 years ago, produced the 2000th last week.

Linkletter keeps in shape by a steady routine of swimming and handball. Guedel keeps in shape by lying down whenever he feels the urge to exercise. Both look tanned, healthy, happy and contented. There is not another pair like them in all Hollywood. This is rather too bad. Hollywood could use more of their kind.

Interpreting The News

Soviets Are Free To Hide Missiles

By ENDRE MARTON
Associated Press Observer

If the United States permanently calls off its U2 plane flights over the Soviet Union, that nation will disperse and camouflage its missile bases in such a way as to avoid aerial detection.

This opinion was voiced Thursday by American analysts of Soviet affairs who said discontinuance of the flights would deprive the Strategic Air Command of its most reliable intelligence source.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev himself announced his intention, more than four months ago, of dispersing the Soviet missile bases.

In a speech to the Supreme Soviet on Jan. 14 he said: "The territory of our country is immense. We have the possibility of dispersing our rocket facilities, and camouflaging them well."

H. S. Dinerstein, a recognized authority on Soviet affairs, describes this Khrushchev speech in a research paper as representing "a culminating point in Soviet strategic thinking."

Dinerstein's paper, prepared under date of Feb. 19 for the Rand Corp., has just become available. His analysis, written three months before the "widely publicized U2 incident," as President Eisenhower called it in his broadcast Wednesday night, aroused added interest in the light of events at the Paris summit meeting.

Dinerstein's thesis that Khrushchev's speech first elevated the ballistic missile with the nuclear warhead to the status of the "supreme weapon" coincides with the belief of other Soviet experts. These analysts said some time ago that the reason for Khrushchev's angry campaign against aerial espionage was that the Russians plan to install the bulk of their intercontinental and intermediate ballistic missile bases during the coming six to nine months.

The U2 has served as one of the "eyes" of SAC for four years, and it was of vital importance for the Soviet Union to knock out this eye, permanently or temporarily, while it went ahead with construction of its bases.

Should the United States observe the pledge Eisenhower made—and Khrushchev refused to accept—and call off the U2 flights, there would be a dangerous gap in U.S. intelligence, these analysts warn. The Samos satellite will not be ready to replace the U2 for about three years.

Khrushchev in his speech explained that the Soviet Union's missile might would counterbalance the cuts in its armed forces. The U.S.S.R. he said, would be able "literally to wipe the country or countries which attack us off the face of the earth."

The change in Soviet military thinking came in 1955, the research paper said, when "after a prolonged doctrinal controversy, the recognition of the importance of nuclear weapons and surprise attack became official Soviet doctrine.

★ EXAM TIME—Tuesday this column posed a quiz for its readers. Today a fine set of answers comes from Marty of Bob and Marty's, local bistro. Here goes: "The information you requested on the following listed subjects is readily available. The book 'Little Known Facts of Mice and Men' by Robert Burns, published by Tripledav, circa 1910, gives this information: 1. Custer's First Stand: This was a peanut stand operated by Custer in Casper, Wyo. When this failed he was given a commission in the U.S. Army. 2. Chanel No. 4 is the NBC TV outlet in New York. 3. How to Make a Slow Buck! This information can not be divulged in a family newspaper and can only be given to fast does. 4. The Abominable Snow Woman: Burns in two footnotes writes, "Just eliminate the word "snow." 5. Whistler's Father: He is noted only for the fact that he disappeared immediately after seeing his wife's portrait. 6. The First Rose of Summer: This was Rose Rowbottom, the first baby born in Summer, Idaho. 7. A Gentleman Bug: A man who tunes hs h-fi set down low. 8. First of the Mohicans: An Indian month corresponding to March. This is the day the Indians pay their income tax. Thus the well known saying "Beware the First of the Mohicans." 9. The soldier is a 1952 graduate of Boyertown High school.

★ DANGER TIME—A dental association says if you're over 35, it's not the cavities that threaten to put you into the false teeth classification, but gum diseases. For persons over that hump, gum diseases, such as pyorrhea and gingivitis, account for five times as much tooth loss as dental decay. If you're older than 45, you have a 50 percent chance of being afflicted with some type of gum disease. Your teeth really rest in a kind of springy hammock of gum and bone and are really not "locked" in the jaw. When this little hammock becomes weakened by disease, even sound and healthy teeth become loosened and may fall out. Better watch your mouth breathing because that dries out the gums and can also cause a lot of irritation. These symptoms should be watched: Inflammation, bleeding, and a change of color from a healthy pink to red.

Their son-in-law is Howard Marr Jr., who is in the school system there as administrator and supervising principal of the daytime Variety school. He is a graduate of Columbia university, and now is studying for his doctor's degree at the University of Nevada. Their daughter Nancy was elected vice president of the Garden club there. The young couple, who have lived in Las Vegas only two years, are parents of two children, Melanie and Howard III.

★ RECIPE—Some of The Mercury's reporters have been interviewing oldsters in this neck of the woods. One of the interviewees was close to 100. So the reporter asked the question that was fully as old as the gent being questioned—"To what do you attribute your longevity?" The centenarian thought for a moment and then, holding up his hands, ticked off these items: "I never smoked, I never drank liquor, I never over-ate, I always get up at 6 in the morning." To which the reporter replied, "I had an uncle who did the same things, but he died at 80. How do you account for that?" "Well," came the reply, "he didn't keep it up long enough." Sign in a bar: "Please remember, you're on a stool, not on a couch!"

Your Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MANY women literally worry themselves into trouble during the menopause.

Some women experience physical troubles, of course. But many more suffer primarily, if not solely, from emotional problems.

Emotional stability during the menopause can be aided simply by accepting and understanding that the process is natural and inevitable.

It is as much a part of your life as is the transition from childhood through adolescence to maturity.

I would like to pass on a few simple rules for all of you women approaching the menopause period. If you follow them, I think you can adjust to the change more easily.

1. Face the menopause optimistically and accept it.

2. Get enough sleep. Take a nap if you feel you need it. Avoid mental or physical weariness.

3. Heed all signs of tension. Conserve your energy and relax. Don't let little problems get you down.

4. Don't tackle too many jobs. Don't join any clubs or volunteer for any work that might prove a great strain.

5. Maintain a well-balanced diet. Eat regular meals, including an adequate breakfast.

6. Keep your weight normal.

7. See your doctor whenever you want guidance or medical help.

We do have medical aid for the relatively few women who really have trouble during the menopause. It ranges from mild sedatives to hormone replacement.

We make the transition more gradual, thereby eliminating the symptoms.

Carole Tregoff Argues, Weeps

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Carole Tregoff, the red-haired former model who put spice into Finch murder trial No. 1, wept Thursday when trial No. 2 was postponed until June 20.

The shapely onetime mistress of Dr. R. Bernard Finch cried when the delay was announced in Superior Court. Then outside in the hall and in the elevator and again on the sidewalk she bawled like a child.

Between outbursts, she argued vehemently with her two attorneys.

Newsmen could not determine the exact cause but surmised that it stemmed from two things:

1. Another delay in a strenuous case that dates from last July, when Finch's socialite wife was found slain on the lawn of the couple's fashionable West Covina home.

2. A statement by Superior Court Judge Leroy Dawson that he would not disqualify himself from trial No. 2 despite Miss Tregoff's allegation that she could not receive a fair trial from him.

The California Supreme Court issued a writ Wednesday prohibiting the judge from further proceedings against Miss Tregoff, pending a hearing June 13. A hung jury in the first trial necessitated the second trial.

Judge Dawson, obeying the Supreme Court order in Miss Tregoff's case, said he was ready to go ahead with the trial of Dr. Finch. The same allegation of prejudice then was made by Grant Cooper, counsel for Finch, but the judge declined to disqualify himself.

Strings Attached

SAM RAYBURN

WASHINGTON, (AP)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas humorously attached some strings Thursday to acceptance of the post of honorary chairman of the Democratic National Convention.

Rayburn, who had been chairman at the last three conventions, took himself out of consideration this year because he is actively backing Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas for the presidential nomination.

Rayburn said honorary chairman is a position he never heard of before.

But, he said, he may accept it "if it gives me an automobile and a chauffer, hotel room and meals and several hundred extra tickets."

Princess Alexandra Will Meet Bachelors

LONDON (AP)—Princess Alexandra—one of the world's most eligible young women—will be a special guest of Queen Elizabeth II at next month's Royal Ascot races.

Hardly by accident, the Queen's party will include two highly eligible 28-year-old bachelors: the Duke of Atholl and Vincent Lumley. Both are rich.

With Princess Margaret married to Antony Armstrong-Jones, Alexandra has succeeded her as the most marriageable royal princess in the United Kingdom.

Alexandra, 23, is the only daughter of the stylish Duchess of Kent. She is the Queen's and Margaret's first cousin. Her father was killed in an airplane crash during World War II.

Alexandra's intimates know her as thoroughly unspoiled, handsome rather than pretty, kind, considerate and possessing perhaps the best sense of humor in the royal family. But she has little wealth.

Royal Ascot begins June 14. The Queen's house party for the event will last a week.

During that period the duke and the viscount will be constantly in Alexandra's company. From every angle, either young man would be a suitable husband for Alex, as she is known to friends.

In addition to the title of duke, Atholl has 17 others. He is 6 feet 3. His Blair Castle, with 29 rooms stands in the center of 100,000 green acres. He has the right to run his own army, the Atholl Highlanders. But having failed his army medical examination, the duke is no military man.

After being graduated from Oxford he took a job in a printing plant that paid him $56 a week.

Viscount Lumley is the son of Lord Scarborough, the lord chamberlain.

He is a close friend of the Duke of Kent, Alexandra's brother.

He, too, knows what it means to work, having been a proofreader and an assistant press officer to Sir John Harding during the Cyprus crisis.

Lumley holds a commission in the 11th Hussars.

Stage Father of Year Shocked

NEW YORK (AP)—Sir Cedric Hardwicke, 67-year-old British actor currently starring in the Broadway hit, "A Majority of One," was honored Thursday as "stage father of the year."

Minutes later he learned that his 32-year-old second wife, actress Mary Scott, had announced plans in Hollywood to divorce him.

Sir Cedric, distraught over the planned divorce, hurriedly left the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, where he had received the award, in order to telephone his wife.

"This is the first I've heard about it," Sir Cedric told newsmen. "I spoke to her a week ago. 'I'm certainly going to call her this afternoon."

Earlier in Hollywood, Miss Scott blamed prolonged separations for her action.

"Until the last year," she said, "Sir Cedric and I were together most of the time. But recently we have been much apart. There are no hard feelings between us. Sir Cedric is a fine man. It's just that the marriage has not worked out. I asked him to let me get a divorce. He wasn't very happy about it but he agreed."

Sir Cedric's first wife was actress Helena Pickard. They were divorced about 10 years ago in London.

'Small Guy' Worried Over $40,000,000

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Playboy contractor Hal B. Hayes, who has a 40-million-dollar problem, said Thursday:

"I'm ruined. I'm dead. I don't know how long ago I got involved in this. I tried to pay off everybody but somehow it didn't work."

The mild-looking former fiance of Zsa Zsa Gabor had seemed assured Wednesday night to reporters who located him at a plush Sunset Strip restaurant.

He admitted work had stopped or slowed at seven locations where his firms are building more than 60 million dollars' worth of projects for the government but declared: "As of tonight, we've written 40 million dollars' worth of checks. Everybody is going to get paid."

ZSA ZSA GABOR

At most of the works—missile sites or housing for military bases—construction halted because subcontractors said they weren't paid or because funds weren't available to cover liens.

Later, after drinks at his plush "house of tomorrow," which has a swimming pool in the living room, Hayes met reporters again—this time moodily.

"The big companies are after my skin," he said. "They want to get me because I'm a rebel. I can't fight them—I'm a small guy. But apparently I've given them a lot of trouble. Now all I want is peace."

Presently, without elaborating, he fell asleep. A blonde woman friend, who identified herself as Gerry Gay, became alarmed and called an ambulance. Attendants found nothing wrong with him.

Hayes flew in from Mexico City Wednesday night and saw a newspaper bannering the headline, "Millions in jobs tied up as Hal Hayes missing."

He had his housekeeper call Los Angeles reporters and tell them he would talk to them. She gave an itinerary of five Sunset Strip night spots where he might be found. They caught him at La Rue's restaurant.

"I haven't been hiding from anyone," Hayes said. "I've been around the world in the past two weeks. I was at the summit conference—at that summit thing. I've been in Hong Kong, France, Cairo, Beirut. . . ."

He said he was in Paris to discuss new government contracts with officials he wouldn't identify.

He claimed "competitors" had combined with "some of the bonding companies" to put him at a financial disadvantage and: "They're all trying to get me out of business."

The projects are at Camp Lejeune, N. C.; Grand Forks Air Force Base, N. D.; Ellsworth Air Force Base, S. D.; Beall Air Force Base, Maryville, Calif.; Mather Air Force Base, near Sacramento, Calif., and Ft. Bliss, near El Paso, Tex.

Schweiker Spent $24,414 to Get GOP Nomination

The independent campaign of Richard S. Schweiker, Lansdale, successful Republican candidate for Cogressman in Montgomery county at last month's primary, cost $24,414.07, according to an expense account filed with the County Board of Elections.

A total of $13,714.13, more than half of the entire campaign expense, was listed for advertising services.

The bulk of Schweiker's receipts were contributions from members of his family, according to the report filed.

These included: $5000, Malcolm A. Schweiker, his father; $4500 each, William Strasburg, a brother in law; Blanche Schweiker, and Sylvia Strasburg, a sister; $3000 from Roy Schweiker, and $1000 from Anne Schweiker. The congressional candidate's wife, Claire, is listed for a contribution of $304.

Remainder of the contributions were smaller amounts from individuals.

In additoin to the advertising expenses, other major expense of Schweiker's campaign was a total of $4350 for election workers, watchers and transportation of voters.

The report was filed by Edwin G. Holl, treasurer of the Dick Schweiker for Congress committee.

VILLAGERS KILLED

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Five villagers and two young children were killed by a band of Moslem rebels during raids on two villages in the remote Buthidaung area near East Pakistan, according to delayed messages reaching here Thursday. Eighteen hostages were seized.

PEACE PIPE SMOKED IN SEWER TIFF

"understanding" between the two groups was achieved Wednesday night.

The three-hour meeting was in East Greenville's council chamber and was attended by six of seven councilmen, four of six authority members and three engineers.

KEELOR Thursday night said, "Everyone is on friendly terms, but nothing is settled."

He added that the matter of using a route on Main street or in alleys of East Greenville "is now a legal question being investigated by attorneys."

Clarence Roth, councilman, said the legal issue must be tempered with the results of a new engineering survey.

The survey, by Albright and Freil, will show the exact cost of putting sewers on Main street. Part of the unsettled legal problem Roth noted, will be to determine if the sewer authority can put pipes wherever it wants to—regardless of council's desire.

Council has voted for sewer lines down alleys, but all construction for East Greenville won't start for another six weeks.

Work in Pennsburg now includes about 400 yards of pipelines laid on Eighth street, going east from Montgomery avenue.

Deceased Men Of Rotary Club Are Remembered

Sixteen deceased members of the Pottstown Rotary club were memorialized at simple but impressive ceremonies last evening at the Pottsgrove home, West High street, when trees planted in their memory were dedicated.

The project was started several years ago during the term of H. Melvin Pierce as president. Pierce was in charge of last evening's project.

The dedicatory service was in the Pottsgrove house and was in charge of the Rev. Dr. John B. Frantz, club president. Pierce then led Rotarians present to the grove of trees planted southwest of the house, along the Benjamin Franklin highway. The Rev. Dr. Frantz also presented a memorial book to officials of the Pottstown Historical society, sponsors of the old Potts home, in which is included the names, Rotary record, and date of death of each ot the Rotarians honored.

A tree has been planted in memory of each of the following: James M. Reigner, Robert W. Evans, Sr., C. Allyn Brown, David Pollock, Charles J. Custer, (charter member), Edmund K. Lindemuth, Edward S. Fretz (charter member and a past district governor), I. Leroy Johnson, Edward D. Gudebrod, Hilary Missimer, Richard F. Smale, Sr., H. Lewis Williams, Walter S. Hutt, Francis W. Hennessey, George M. Longaker and Hermann Maack. The last six members died since July 1, 1959, when the present term of Rotary officers began. Officers are endeavoring to gather data on Rotarians who died previous to 1955 when the present list was started.

HOSTESSES, representing the Pottstown Historical society, greeted Rotarians on their arrival at the manor, as follows: Mrs. Donnel Marshall, Mrs. William O'Donnell, Mrs. Raymond Elliott, Mrs. William Brownback, and Mrs. Franklin Wertz. Each hostess was dressed in colonial costume and conducted Rotarians on a tour of the building.

Previous to the dedicatory ceremony Rotarians met at the Brookside Country club for their weekly meeting. Guests were Richard Scheffey, president of the local Historical society and Mrs. James I. Wendell, chairman of the Pottsgrove committee of the Society.

Scheffey gave a brief review of the society's activities and plans for the future. Mrs. Wendell described the Pottsgrove Manor project. Mrs. Scheffey and Mrs. John B. Frantz were also guests of the club.

Eighty-five Rotarians attended the meeting. Pierce was program chairman. Dr. Frantz was in charge of the meeting.

Next week ten recipients of Rotary service awards in area schools will be honored guests, together with their parents and school principals. Guest speaker will be Dr. Edward Rutter, former Pottstonian, and presently superintendent of the Radnor Township schools. Walter Heise will be program chairman.

CARVINGS FOUND

PARIS (AP)—Prehistoric stone carvings have been found on walls of a cave of the Dordogne region of southwest France. Roger de Lauriere, a specialist who has made two important discoveries thereabouts previously, said they are probably 30,000 to 40,000 years old. Most are elk and deer figures, he said.

Wild, Screaming Japanese Demonstrate Against U. S.

AFTER THE TIDAL WAVES—People of Hachinohe, on Japan's northern island of Honshu, proceed with clean-up following Tuesday's tidal waves. The giant waves, resulting from earthquakes in Chile across the Pacific, caused extensive damage and high toll of dead or missing along Japan's coastline.

TOKYO (AP)—Wildly dancing, screaming columns led by leftists laid siege to Parliament Thursday in a demonstration of 100,000 people against Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's pro-American policies and President Eisenhower's visit here next month.

Waving big red flags, the demonstrators zigzagged tirelessly around the white stone Diet building for hours. They roared "down with Kishi," "Don't come Ike" and "crush the U.S.-Japan security pact."

Later, a column of 16,000 snake-danced past the U.S. Embassy in a noisy 2½ - hour demonstration. They rattled the Embassy's shuttered windows with chants like "Send back the U2s." Communists chanted: "Yankee, go home."

The demonstrations in Tokyo were the biggest and noisiest in the history of both the Diet and the embassy. They were by far the biggest of the nationwide protests against Kishi and the security pact in which a million people were reported to have participated throughout Japan.

Circling the Diet from afternoon until night, the leftists — mostly Socialists, unionists and university students—were under orders to prevent Kishi from leaving the structure. They held him prisoner inside for eight hours, forcing him to cancel a meeting with visiting President Sukarno of Indonesia. He finally slipped out a side entrance when the crowd thinned late at night.

In spite of the din and the dust they raised, most of the demonstrators were kept under control by their leaders. The police also exercised unusual restraint.

Members of the Radical Zengakuren Students Federation threw stones sporadically at police in an effort to start a riot. Seventeen police were reported hurt, but only a few injuries were serious. Some of the students also tried to light a fire under a police truck. This was extinguished quickly.

Politically, the effect of the demonstrations is a matter of conjecture.

Kishi told members of his party he would not bow to mob pressure and intended to remain in office until the U.S.-Japan security pact goes into effect. Ratified by the Diet's lower house last Friday, it allows American troops to stay in Japan at least 10 years more.

Kishi's Liberal-Democrat party managed to ram the treaty through the lower house and frustrate Socialist delaying tactics by extending the session 50 days beyond its normal expiration date, which would have been Thursday. The treaty goes into effect automatically on June 19 unless Parliament adjourns before then. The leftists are using the demonstrations to try to force the legislators to shut up shop and go home, thus voiding the treaty.

Westerners here are amazed at the Socialist argument that Kishi was "unparliamentary" in using his party majority to win passage of the treaty. The Socialists are a minority in Parliament and do not have the votes to block the treaty. They have therefore resorted to demonstrations, and Japanese as well as Westerners are showing concern at the future of representative government in Japan.

Nine Americans Were Toasted With Cognac by Russian Captors

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—In a shower of hospitality after forcing down a C47 with gunfire, the Soviets drank toasts to peace and U. S.-Soviet friendship with the nine Americans aboard.

This report came from the Americans at a news conference Thursday after their return from Communist East Germany, where six Soviet MIGs forced down the transport plane with machine gun bursts last Friday.

"Our treatment was good. The food was good. The Russians helped us out in any way they could for our comfort," said the pilot, Capt. James Lundy of Findlay, Ohio.

He has been grounded pending an Air Force inquiry into why his plane strayed off course on a flight from Copenhagen, Denmark to Hamburg, Germany.

"While the Russians brought us cognac, they always made a great point to toast to peace and friendship between our countries," said Barbara McCash, 24, of Atlanta, Ga., the only woman aboard.

"They mentioned to us the Russian sailors who were picked up by an American aircraft carrier after drifting at sea and they complimented us as to the treatment the Americans had given them."

The dramatic rescue early this year of the Soviet sailors by the U. S. carrier Kearsarge after seven weeks adrift in the Pacific took precedence among the Soviets over U2 spy plane incident. U. S. authorities had feared the repercussions from the downing of the U2 in the Soviet Union would make it difficult to obtain the Americans' release. But they were freed with surprising speed.

Lundy reported the Soviets, referring to the U2, said "the Americans should not have done it" but let it go at that.

The Americans were put up at Soviet headquarters at Greves-muehlen and the men played volleyball with Soviet soldiers in the yard, Mrs. McCash said.

"The Russians were always very friendly and tried very hard to be helpful," she added. "I got the impression that they were very concerned that we could say we were treated well. They brought us German and Russian brandy and cigarettes."

The Soviets gave the Americans permission to leave Tuesday. The field in which the plane landed had become soggy with rain, however, and the aircraft could not take off until Wednesday evening. It flew to this U. S. Air Force European headquarters.

Soon after the plane landed, the Air Force announced that its pilot was grounded pending a full investigation. Gen. Frederic H. Smith, commander of the Air Force in Europe, was quoted as saying the pilot "clearly had violated pertinent flying directions."

Lundy, 41, a combat veteran, said he had expected to face an investigation but as far as he knew, he had not violated any flying procedures.

An Air Force spokesman said the inquiry involves thorough interviewing of all persons involved, the collection of flight plans, weather reports and other documents.

Rockefeller Avoids Question on Nixon's Qualifications

LOCKPORT, N.Y. (AP) —Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who has made himself available for the Republican nomination for president, avoided Thursday saying whether he considered Vice President Richard M. Nixon qualified for the presidency.

Rockefeller declared at a news conference that Nixon had been "exposed" to top problems and had a "background of knowledge that a candidate should have."

But Rockefeller would not say specifically whether he considered Nixon qualified to be president.

The governor said the answer to that question would depend on what was meant by "qualified."

In another approach, the governor was asked whether he considered that Nixon was not qualified in any respect. Rockefeller replied by referring to his statement of Wednesday that he himself was available for a draft as the GOP candidate for president.

Rockefeller said, however, that he would not be an active candidate and would not encourage any activity on his behalf.

Nixon is the only declared candidate for the GOP nomination. He has sufficient votes now, by unofficial count, to win the nomination on the first ballot. Rockefeller's announcement had little discernible impact on the Republican national situation.

GOP leaders are virtually unanimous in their belief that Nixon will win the nomination.

On the question of whether Nixon was qualified for the presidency, Rockefeller also said that voters would decide in November on Nixon's qualifications, if the convention nominated him.

Rockefeller again endorsed the planned congressional investigation of the U2 spy plane incident and the collapse of the summit talks.

He said the study should cover the timing of the spy flights prior to the summit conference and the apparent fact that no preparation was made for the possibility a spy plane would fall into Soviet hands.

The governor said President Eisenhower's report to the nation Wednesday night was "a very outstanding speech," but he said additional information should be forthcoming.

Rockefeller said all the facts should be made known "when something goes wrong."

Strike Against Pennsy Is Predicted by Quill

CHICAGO, (AP) — The international president of the Transport Workers union of America said Thursday there is a "strong likelihood" 25,000 members of his union will strike the Pennsylvania railroad today.

President Michael J. Quill told newsmen that union members probably will quit work at the 4 p. m. change of shifts along the railroad which serves points between New York and St. Louis.

Quill said union leaders have attempted to dissuade the 46 locals from striking but that the locals are "becoming very impatient" because negotiations over increased wages and improved working conditions have bogged down.

"We are as far apart with the railroad as the Western powers are with Khrushchev," Quill said.

He said any walkout will not be legal until midnight July 20.

Quill said he and other national representatives spent the afternoon telephoning heads of the locals, urging them not to strike. He said he told the local presidents they must conform with provisions of the Railway Labor act which would prevent a legal walkout until midnight July 20.

"We have been working at this all afternoon," Quill said, "but the only answer we get from the local union heads is, 'Well, we don't know. We'll call meetings and put it up to our workers'."

President Eisenhower on May 20 signed an emergency order creating a fact-finding board to look into the dispute. Under the Railway Labor act this postpones any legal walkout for 60 days.

The last system wide strike against the Pennsylvania was in 1922.

Quill said the union members, now averaging about $2.60 an hour, want a 35-cent-an-hour pay boost. The railroad, he said, has asked the union to take a 20-cent-an-hour cut.

Transport workers members are non-operating employes of the railroad and include yardmen and machinists.

But, Quill said, members of operating unions would refuse to cross transport workers' picket lines, thus tying up the entire line.

He said the union's rank and file are "very angry" about the railroad's contention that for each penny it grants in wage increases it will have to lay off 3000 empolyes.

Also, he said many union members may take advantage of the long Decoration day weekend to stage a walkout.

A TEMPORARY work stoppage hit railroad last week and as a result the Pennsylvania filed damage suits for 10 million dollars against the International union and 5 million dollars against the Conway, Pa., local.

Also, the railroad was granted a temporary restraining order by a Federal court in Pennsylvania, to prevent such stoppage. A hearing is under way in Philadelphia on the railroad's request that the order be made permanent.

A spokesman at PRR headquarters in Philadelphia said of Quill's statement:

"This is a deliberate and outrageous flaunting of the law. If anyone believes these walkouts are not planned by the union he is crazy.

"If Quill and union leaders didn't order the men out in the recent strike, how was it the men so quickly obeyed their order to go back to work? Obviously it was all planned. If the men go out it has already been planned by the union."

NEW HOUSE PAINT GOES ON RIGHT OVER DAMP SURFACES

DRIES BUG-PROOF, DUST-PROOF, RAIN-PROOF IN 20 MINUTES; BLISTER RESISTANT; BRUSHES WASH IN WATER

New SPRED HOUSE PAINT, proven in over 5 years of testing in all climates, takes all the inconvenience out of exterior painting. Think of it! Dries in 20 minutes... no mired bugs, no dust, no driving rain to spoil its beautiful flat finish. With SPRED HOUSE PAINT, no wasted weekends because you can paint right after a rain. Simply wipe off drops of water and paint right over damp surfaces. You paint faster, easier. You clean up in soapy water. You have a choice of modern colors and white. And SPRED HOUSE PAINT will look better, last longer than the most expensive oil paint you can buy.

Have a question?

HERE'S THE ANSWER!

Because SPRED HOUSE PAINT is so unusual, we have tried to answer some of the questions you will have. For the complete story on this remarkable new paint, see your Glidden dealer.

Q. If brushes wash in water, why won't this new paint wash off when it rains?
A. When Glidden SPRED HOUSE PAINT is brushed out, it sets up quickly and dries in 20 minutes. Once dry, it can't wash off. Your brushes wash up in soap and water because you don't let them lie around until they dry out before trying to clean them.

Q. My house is blistered now. If I put these new paints on, will I stop the trouble?
A. Yes, but you must do the job right. The sure way is to take the surface down to bare wood. If you paint over old paint that's blistering, it may go right on blistering underneath the new paint. Your Glidden dealer will tell you how to prepare the surface correctly and how to apply the new latex SPRED System.

Q. Can I put the new latex SPRED HOUSE PAINT on siding previously painted with an oil paint?
A. Yes. Any bad spots should be taken down to the bare wood and a spot coat of new emulsion SPRED PRIMECOAT given the cleaned area. A complete coat of this primer should be applied over the entire house to condition the surface.

Q. Will the new latex exterior paint cover masonry?
A. Yes, it is excellent on all kinds of masonry, stucco and cement block.

Q. Will one coat of SPRED HOUSE PAINT cover or must I put on 2 coats?
A. The first time you use SPRED HOUSE PAINT, remember that SPRED PRIMECOAT is required. Then, you can use 1 or 2 coats of SPRED HOUSE PAINT, depending on your dealer's advice and the color selected.

Q. Will fumes or soil discolor SPRED HOUSE PAINT?
A. No. Glidden SPRED HOUSE PAINT will not hold dirt, stays clean and new looking longer than ordinary paints.

Q. Will SPRED prevent mildew?
A. SPRED HOUSE PAINT dries to a tough, resilient film which will not support new mildew growth.

Q. What do you mean by the latex SPRED System? It sounds complicated.
A. Not at all. It's simply the use of a special primer and a latex topcoat. Once properly painted with the latex SPRED HOUSE PAINT System, a single coat of SPRED HOUSE PAINT is all that's needed for further repainting.

Q. Does this new paint chalk?
A. All paint chalks a little as it weathers, but Glidden SPRED HOUSE PAINTS dry to a very hard film which almost eliminates chalking.

Q. If I paint on a hot, humid day, will this paint dry?
A. Yes, it might possibly take a few minutes longer.

Q. What do you mean, the paint "breathes"—if water goes through one way it will go through the paint both ways, won't it?
A. No. When properly applied, this paint keeps rain and water out, absolutely. But due to the nature of the molecules in the paint film, water in the form of vapor is allowed to pass through from the inside.

Q. What is the new primer? I've used Glidden primers for years and have been perfectly satisfied with them.
A. It's an emulsion paint with special characteristics. We call it SPRED PRIMECOAT because it protects like a barrier by sealing in such things as Redwood Stain.

Q. When I paint my garage, I figure I can get the primer on in a couple hours. When can I start putting on the topcoat?
A. As soon as the primer dries. It takes about 6 hours at 80° F.—longer in cooler weather. Be sure to refer to directions on the label.

Q. Could I put these paints on in cold weather?
A. Yes, but not in freezing weather. 50° F. is the lowest painting temperature recommended. Longer dry times will be necessary in cold weather.

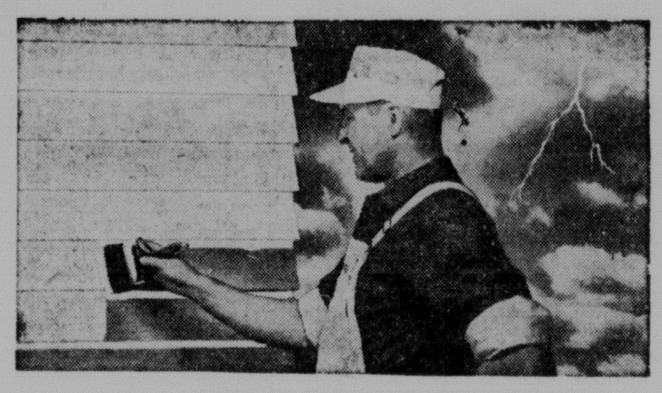
Q. Can the primer be used on anything besides previously painted wood?
A. Absolutely. Latex SPRED PRIMECOAT is intended for conditioning all sorts of previously painted and weathered areas. It is a good primer for galvanized metal gutters, etc.

Q. How about fading?
A. It depends on the color but in general, the new latex SPRED HOUSE PAINT has more resistance to fading than other premium quality, premium price paints.

Q. What if I wanted to thin this new paint; do I need a special thinner?
A. Use water but don't thin out too much or you will lose the excellent hiding and coverage Glidden SPRED HOUSE PAINTS are designed to give you. Also, thin films are much less durable.

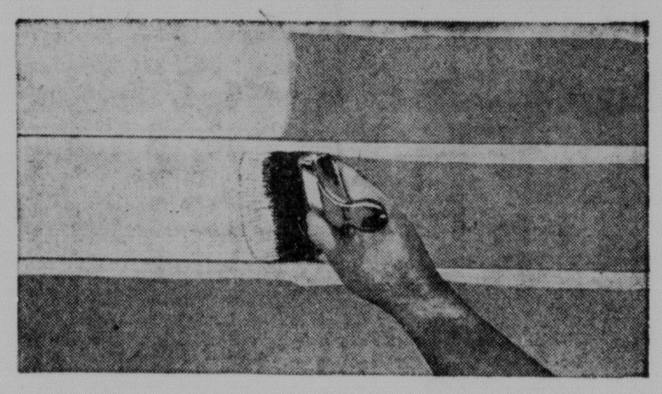
Forget about rain—
DRIES IN 20 MINUTES!

No spoiled finish from rain, bugs, or dust with fast-drying action like this. No lost weekends... you can wipe water-drops off the siding and paint right on the damp surface with either latex SPRED PRIMECOAT or SPRED HOUSE PAINT.



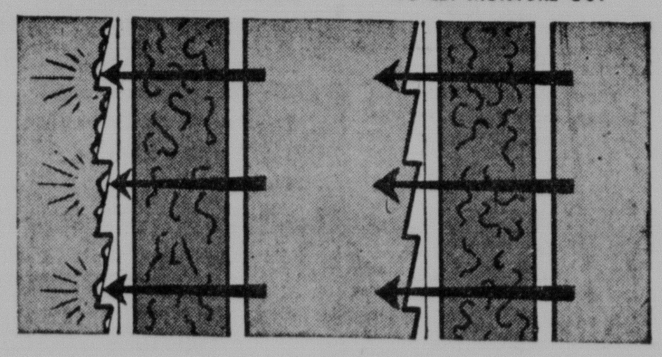
Forget about hard work—
SPRED FLOWS ON EASILY

You'll be amazed the way SPRED handles. No repeated brushing back and forth the way you have to with ordinary oil paints. You simply flow on a full-bodied coat, brushing it just enough to cover with a smooth, even finish.



Forget about blisters—
DO THE JOB RIGHT WITH SPRED HOUSE PAINT

Follow the directions, and the SPRED HOUSE PAINT System will solve your blister problems. SPRED "breathes" to let house moisture out without breaking its tough, resilient plastic film. Best protection for today's modern homes.



NEW SPRED OUTLASTS ORDINARY HOUSE PAINT

Doesn't need to chalk to stay clean— SPRED HOUSE PAINT provides a very hard, durable, yet flexible finish which repels dirt; it doesn't have to chalk to keep clean. The paint stays on your house... minimum chalking means no unsightly stains on foundation, windows and screens.

Wrong-Way Driver Killed on Freeway

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—A motorist turned into a Ventura freeway exit ramp Thursday, drove four miles against traffic, scattering oncoming autos, and finally collided headon with one.

The wrong-way driver and the man and woman in the other machine were killed.

Police said Edwin Smith, 55, of North Hollywood, apparently had his directions confused.

His machine narrowly missed several others before colliding with one occupied by Eldon Kennedy, 47, Los Angeles, and Grace Thompson, about 40, of Glendale.

The wreckage tied up traffic for more than an hour on the busy artery.

A motorist, seeing Smith turn onto the freeway, telephoned police and cried, "Stop him."

Patrol cars were dispatched.

Then, after five minutes, came a call: "Send an ambulance. There's been a bad one."

State Suspends Driver's License Of L. L. Baum

Lester L. Baum, one-time candidate for borough council, had his driver's license suspended 30 days on a charge of contributing to a fatal accident.

Baum, 111 North Hanover street, was in an accident about a year ago on Route 100 near Cedarville, when his brother was killed.

IN MEMORY OF ANNIE

DES MOINES (AP)—On the mantle of a living room in a farm home near Des Moines is a cowbell. It was worn by a cow named Annie, which died several years ago.

The farmer and his wife were so fond of the cow that the bell has a permanent spot in the home, in memory of Annie.

TO GET DEGREE—Doris Reitenbough, a 1956 graduate of Pottstown High school and June graduate of Millersville State college, has accepted a position as librarian with the Schwenksville Union School district. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reitenbough, Pottstown RD 3, will graduate with a BS in library science.

Effervescent Describes C. E. Walters

30 days in jail at Savannah, Ga., for attempted blackmail.

In 1935 he was picked up for investigation in Fort Smith, Ark. At that time he was known as Frank Hart.

In 1937, while using the name of John Webb, Walters was fined $40.10 in Hannibal, Mo. for being drunk and disorderly.

In 1939, in Bastrop, La., Walters was again picked up for investigation. This time he was using the same name he is now known by — C. E. Walters.

THEN, FOR 22 years, the FBI record on Walters was blank.

But in 1951, Walters was arrested in Danville, Ill., and charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Authorities in Danville released him in custody of officials in Burlington, Iowa.

In Burlington he was convicted of selling securities without registration. Walters spent the next five years in the Iowa State prison.

As late as 1959 Walters was reportedly attempting to sell citizens of Petersburg, Va., stock in fraudulent oil wells. He allegedly was on the verge of persuading two Petersburg businessmen to invest $5000 each in a bogus enterprise, police said, when his scheme hit a snag and he was forced to flee the area.

Library Board Gets Report

The monthly meeting of the Pottstown Public library board met Thursday and reported that the April circulation was 5796.

Both adult and juvenile registration for April was 250.

Gifts received during April came from John Bauer, The Century club, Mrs. Paul Emrich, George Funk, Hill Women's club, Mrs. Ruth Hunter, Mrs. Florence Leighton, Charles Peifer, Dominic Shipkovsky, Mrs. Bayard Van Rennsaeler, Stella Wiand and Mrs. Clarence Welch.

Attending the meeting at the library was Thomas F. Storm, president; Ruth Christman, secretary; Annie Prince, treasurer and Alvin Weiss.

Storm announced that Dorothy Bendix, associate professor and public library specialist at the Drexel Institute of technology, Philadelphia, will speak on library policy at the library June 13.

Her topic will be "The Library as a Community Project." Also to attend the meeting will be the Pottstown League of Women voters which has as a Fall project a library study.

Storm said the June 13 meeting will take the place of the regular board meeting for June.

ZERN ENTERS LOW BID FOR POSTOFFICE

ed of getting the contract.

His bid of $36,984 would be the annual rental price to the government during the first 20 years of the contract. The rental would decrease to $36,000 for the following ten years, and to $35,000 during the following 20 years.

Zern was also the successful low bidder last week for the Collegeville postoffice to be constructed at the intersection of Fifth and Park avenues and School street. That bid was $7800 for the first 20 years of the contract.

THE COLLEGEVILLE postoffice will be twice the size of the present one, and construction costs are estimated between $60,000 and $63,000. The site cost $7000.

The Pottstown postoffice is expected to cost $375,000, according to Richard H. Thompson, real estate broker, who represented Zern at the bid openings in Washington Thursday.

The glass and stone building will front on High street 115 feet and on Madison street 118 feet. There will be 18,600 square feet of floor space and 14,900 square feet of parking and maneuvering area.

The largest of eight rooms to be constructed will be a general workroom 91 by 104 feet. Seven other rooms will contain offices, lockers and a lobby.

The postoffice department has been seeking a site for a new postoffice for the past six years, and handicaps at the present site have been pointed out in editorials in The Mercury for the past 11 years.

THE MAJOR handicap is the small size of the building. With the ever increasing mail load, it had become a necessity to seek larger quarters.

As many as six sites were considered by the postoffice department, but the constant pressure of Thompson, and Pottstown attorney Matthew Santangelo, 223 King street, representing the two needed properties at High and Madison street finally resulted in the postoffice department placing options on those two properties and one other.

The other property was that of Dr. S. Russell Ash at 740 High street. The postoffice selected ten representative Pottstonians to choose between the two sites.

The High and Madison site was chosen. The two propertiec at High and Madison are "Hianmadison," on the southwest corner, and the Michael Lasky estate, at 25 South Madison street. "Hianmadison" was owned by Mrs. Roberta Mills, and was built by Ellis Mills, founder of one of Pottstown's largest department stores.

The two lots form a tract of land 140 feet along High street and 300 feet south along Madison street.

Salvation Army Officials Address Area Grange

Capt. C. Robert Flinn of the Pottstown Salvation Army, and his family, were guests of the North Coventry Grange Thursday night at its weekly meeting at the Grange hall at Cedarville.

Flinn showed slides and gave a talk on his work with the Salvation Army.

Nellie Gaut, Cedarville, who is leaving for Europe June 8, was given a farewell party by Grange members following the business meeting.

Former Missionary to Tanganyika Warns of African Racial Dangers

"Time has almost run out for a reconciliation of Negroes and Whites in South Africa," United Lutheran ministers and laymen were told Thursday at Buck Hill Falls.

The Rev. Oscar R. Rolander, former missionary to Tanganyika, addressed nearly 1000 delegates as the four day annual convention of the Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania closed.

Among the business conducted by the group late Wednesday was that of approving a $3,331,696 budget for work of the church in the next year. More than two thirds of the total comprises the synod's portion of the national United Lutheran church budget.

The synod approved support for Muhlenberg college in the amount of $175,000, or $10,000 more than last year, and $115,000 for the Mt. Airy Theological seminary, Philadelphia, $15,000 above last year.

A PANEL discussion on the proposed merger of four Lutheran sects in America was conducted Wednesday night.

The merger to be completed by January, 1963, will reduce the number of major Lutheran groups in America from seven to four.

The Rev. Rolander spoke on the African racial conflict as a specialist on African affairs for the World Mission corporation of the National Lutheran council.

He said that although the South African government "has put a lid on native resentment for the time being, it must explode at some future time."

THE FORMER missionary said there is still a chance for a reconciliation "because of the Negro's amazing capacity for forgiveness and understanding."

He pointed out that African nationalism was influenced by Western democracy and the spreading of the Christian Gospel, and added, "this nationalism is a fact in the overall picture of political development in the world which has to be reckoned with."

"The West," he continued, "must give intelligent and sympathetic understanding and support to African needs. The church has a specific obligation to educate and train African leaders capable of promoting democracy and self-government among African nations."

He warned, "Unless the West comes to the aid of African nationalism and helps channel it into constructive objectives and policies, Africa will be forced to look to Moscow for help."

PERKIOMEN JOINT BOARD OKAYS BUDGET

Hike Is $32,000; 72 Percent Goes For Salaries

A budget of $470,195 was adopted by the Perkiomen Joint school system Thursday night at the Collegeville-Trappe Elementary school.

The budget represents an increase of $32,000 over the 1959-60 budget of $437,323. The largest percentage of the record high budget—72 percent—is for teachers' salaries.

The three school districts were assessed according to their average daily attendance. The assessments are: Collegeville, $111,556; Skippack, $247,933; and Trappe, $91,790.

At the meeting, Dr. Paul R. Wagner, newly elected treasurer of the Collegeville school board, was chosen for the same post on the joint board.

TWO NEW teachers were elected. They are Leah Jaffe, a June graduate of Temple university, Philadelphia, as English social studies and French teacher in the high school; and S. Delores Petticrew, a June graduate of Drexel Institute of Technology, Philadelphia, as home economics teacher in the High school.

Both will start at $4200 annually.

Florence S. Naegele was elected as a secretary in the high school office at $60 weekly. All three appointees will begin in September.

Bills of $39,320 were paid and receipts of $39,675 accepted, leaving a balance on hand of approximately $450.

and temperatures ranging from 57 to 77.

THE WEATHER conditions that brought Thursday's intermittent overcast and low 70-degree temperatures was an area of thundershowers moving east from Illinois. It is the same bad weather area that is expected to hit this area later today.

Thursday's low was registered at 7 a.m., when the temperature dropped to a chilly 55. At noon, the mercury hit 70, moved to 72 at 3 p.m., and remained there until 9 p.m. when the drop to an overnight low of 58 began.

church to "Onward Christian Soldiers," carrying their plumed hats and wearing dark uniforms with sword belts. The swords were not worn in keeping with a custom of church attendance.

The Rev. Buckwalter based his talk on Jesus' words, "Peace I Leave With You."

He said that the peace Jesus meant was not a peace based on cessation of hostilities between groups or individuals.

"Rather this is a peace which comes from within," he added.

"It is a peace which only God can give and comes to us with the coming of the Holy Spirit in our lives."

He continued, "The importance of the Ascension Day is to be found in the completion of God's redemptive work.

"With the coming of the Holy Spirit, the plan is complete. The work is done and Christ again assumes His position with the Father."

The recessional hymn for the service was "Crown Him With Many Crowns."

The congregation was invited to a social hour in the banquet hall of the Masonic temple following the service.

one-half undivided interest in the property which, in addition to the drug store, contains three apartments and office space.

She further points out that since the property was purchased she and her husband and the Kressens had a joint bank account designated as the Sunset Pharmacy account.

Into this were deposited the rentals, while out of it were paid the principal and interest on the mortgage and other expenses necessary to maintain the building and drug store.

Attorney Trucksess said that the action was brought because Kressen refuses to allow Mrs. Leh to collect the rents and declines to continue the joint bank account. The property involved, he said, was bought for $85,000 and recently was appraised at $150,000

"Since Mr. Leh died, Kressen has arbitrarily taken over collection of the rents from other tenants, but refuses to pay any rent for the drug store. Mrs. Leh is willing to cooperate in all respects," said the attorney.

ering, or evading excise taxes.

ABRAHAM MINKER, of Reading, was indicted by the jury on seven counts of evading excise taxes and faces fines up to $10,000 and prison terms up to five years on each count.

Federal officials say that Minker failed to pay excise taxes amounting to $130,000 from September, 1959 to March, 1960. They based their estimates on a numbers raid on March 25 which netted numbers slips totaling $1.3 million.

Federal Judge Harold K. Wood issued a bench warrant for Minker's arrest.

Memorial Day Holiday Keynote Will Be Safety

reason for staying alert.

Besides the hazards of heavy traffic in getting to and from the park, swimming at the park could be risky.

The number of lifeguards will be cut from 15 to six. There also will be fewer patrols guarding the safety and conduct of picnickers.

The reason for reduced precautions is a cut in State appropriations, said Robert Seidel, office worker at the park. He estimated the park budget will be $7000 to $8000 below last year's figure.

"We want people to realize our situation and to stay alert while using facilities at Hopewell and at Six Penny," said Seidel. He estimated 18,000 persons will visit those two spots in French Creek park during the holiday.

ABOUT 10,000 persons are expected at Upper Perkiomen park. Otto Quinque, superintendent, said he faces no budget cut and will have the normal number of lifeguards for swimming on Monday.

The Upper Perkiomen park area is patrolled by Jeffersonville troopers. Twenty-five men from that barracks will be on duty. Twenty-six men and double patrols from Thorndale will guard Chester county, noted Sgt. B. J. Tarlecky.

Stay-at-homes in Pottstown will find attraction in patriotic services.

Services, sponsored by the Pottstown Veterans council, will begin Sunday at 10:45 a. m. in Transfiguration Lutheran church. At 2:30 p. m. Col. Fred Kelley, 63 North Hanover street, will speak in ceremonies at the graves of 17 Revolutionary war soldiers in Ellis Woods.

In case of rain, the program, including the Pottstown band, will be in the auditorium of Pottstown High school.

A PARADE by 600 persons will start Monday at 8:45 a. m. from the American Legion home, King and Franklin streets.

Marchers will travel east on King street to Adams and then to High street. From there, the parade will go to the postoffice at Washington street.

A war memorial at the postoffice will receive a wreath from commanders of the George A. Amole and the Harriet L. Kulp posts of the American Legion; the Jewish War Veterans, and the Amvets.

Marchers then will parade to the soldiers' plot in the East End cemetery. Speaker there will be R. C. Rhoads, official of the Freedoms foundation at Valley Forge.

Participating in the parade will be men and equipment from the National Guard and the Army Reserve; Boy and Girl scouts; the American Legion drill team; and bands from Owen J. Roberts High school and Pottstown Junior and Senior High schools.

The holiday schedules of Pottstown industry should allow sidewalks to be packed with parade spectators. Nearly all big industry in the borough will allow production crews to enjoy a three-day vacation.

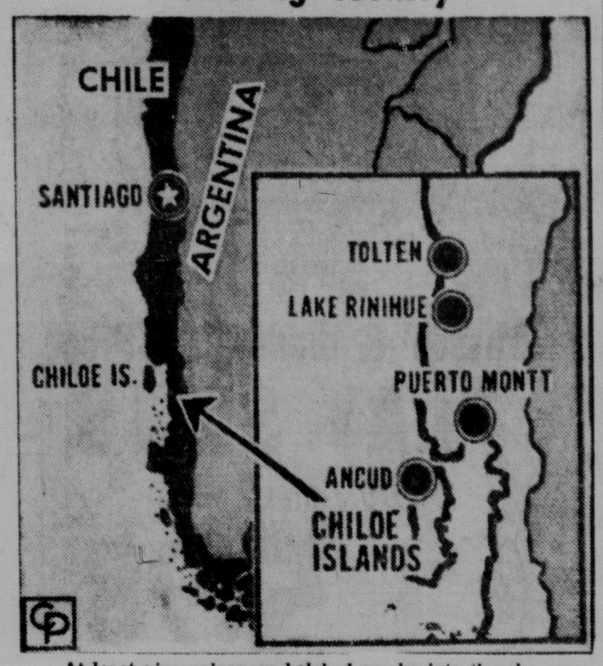
Trembling Country



At least nine volcanoes belched smoke into the sky over southern Chile where an estimated 5000 persons were dead or missing. Two new volcanoes on shores of Lake Rinihue, born in the travail that made itself felt all around the Pacific Basin this past week, added their smoke to that of at least seven known volcanoes. A new tidal wave lashed Chile's southern coast and a major earthquake was reported in the offshore Chiloe Islands. Map and detailed inset show the critical areas in the stricken nation.

800 Chile Indians Feared Buried Under Avalanches

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The death toll for south Chile's 6-day-old siege of earthquakes, tidal waves, avalanches and volcanic eruptions may reach 5,000 government sources said Thursday. The devastating blows of natural violence that began last Saturday abated somewhat during the day.

Officially confirmed figures thus far show 2,829 dead and missing. But with scores of communities still cut off by nature's upheavals, officials said a final count cannot be made for weeks.

Some victims buried under masses of shifting terrain may never be found.

The Interior Ministry disclosed it was investigating reports that more than 800 Aracuana Indians lie buried under tons of snow, rock and other debris in quake-born avalanches.

The Aracuanas—Chile's original inhabitants—live in scattered settlements high in the snow-covered southern mountains.

Amid the continuing disaster reports, hopes rose that the country's ordeal soon may be ending. Only two new quakes were reported Wednesday night and early Thursday by the University of Chile Observatory, and both were mild.

The observatory said the seismic violence, already blamed for an estimated 300 million dollars of property damage, appeared to be on the wane.

Eyewitness reports from the stricken cities of Puerto Montt, on the south-central Chilean coast, and Valdivia, about 30 miles to the north, pictured great devastation.

In Valdivia, a city of 100,000, water and food were at a premium, about 40 per cent of the business and residential areas were in ruins, and both power and communications were out.

Survivors reaching Santiago estimated 300 Valdivia residents were killed in weekend quakes.

Food and water also were desperately needed in Puerto Montt, a city of 45,000. Officials who made a check of conditions there reported much of the residential area destroyed.

Security Council Rejects Russian Spy Resolution

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union met with overwhelming defeat Thursday in its effort to have the U.N. Security Council condemn the United States as an aggressor for sending spy planes over the U.S.S.R.

The vote came after U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge dramatically displayed in the Council a hand-carved wooden eagle with a listening device hidden in it.

In what amounted to a resounding vote of confidence in the United States, the Council rejected a Soviet resolution seeking both condemnation and a Council embargo on any future spy flights.

The vote was 2 in favor, 7 against and 2 abstaining. Only the Soviet Union and Communist Poland cast affirmative votes. Lining up with the United States were Britain, France, Italy, Nationalist China, Ecuador and Argentina. The abstainers were Ceylon and Tunisia.

• • •

After disposing of the Soviet complaint, the Council went on to consider a resolution urging a renewal of Big Four negotiations on outstanding issues with the aid of the United Nations.

This was an obvious attempt to wind up the debate on a conciliatory tone after the sharp exchange between Lodge and Gromyko.

Gromyko said after the vote he would bring up the question again in the U.N. General Assembly, but that he did not wish to say now whether it would be at a regular or special session.

Most diplomats felt it would be at the session opening Sept. 20 when the United States plans to bring in its plan for aerial reconnaissance under the supervision of the Security Council," Lodge said. "Mr. Gromyko compared the Council to a court and it has rendered its decision."

Lodge spoke only 15 minutes in reply to a tough one-hour long final speech by Gromyko in which the Russian said President Eisenhower's speech to the nation Wednesday night only showed Eisenhower personally approved provocative actions against the Soviet Union.

Before going into the Council Gromyko told newsmen that the speech could only aggravate the tense situation between the two great powers. He said it confirmed "the dangerous policy of the United States in regard to the Soviet Union."

Lodge asserted the Soviet Union for undisclosed reasons had seized upon the incident of the U2 plane brought down over Soviet soil on May 1 as a pretext to wreck the Paris summit conference.

"Why the Soviet Union, after speaking of friendship and peaceful coexistence for the last year is suddenly beating the drums of the cold war I do not know," he added.

"But surely people all over the world must ask themselves this question."

He charged that Gromyko totally ignored "the distrust which Soviet secrecy causes—and which can only be overcome by continuing negotiations instead of breaking them off."

Gromyko said that Eisenhower Wednesday night stressed once more "in a categorical manner that the government of the United States will continue its espionage against the Soviet Union by any means."

'Trojan Horse' Gift From Soviet Displayed by Ambassador Lodge

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge displayed to the Security Council Thursday a hand-covered wood eagle with a listening device hidden inside.

He said the Soviets had given it to the American ambassador in Moscow to hang in his office so they could eavesdrop on conversations. He offered it as "a concrete example of Soviet espionage."

Lodge said the United States had found well over a hundred concealed listening devices in "numerous embassies" in the Soviet Union and other such countries—25 in Poland—and the latest within the past month.

The Soviet delegation smiled as Lodge talked. Then Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko remarked that Lodge had shown the council "a picture." He asked what play it was out of and when the play would open.

Lodge came back: "It's not a picture. It's not a work of art. It's not out of any play. It's out of the Soviet Union."

Poland's Ambassador Jerzy Michalowski said he wouldn't try to answer Lodge, but could give some interesting information "concerning the microphones in some of our buildings in this country."

Lodge said the Soviets had given the "beautiful piece of carving" to the U.S. ambassador not long ago—and "then a clandestine listening device was discovered inside."

It looked like a solid piece, he explained, but turned out to be in two parts, front and back, joined by a transparent ring and hollow inside.

Lodge showed the council how it opened—and said, "here is the clandestine listening device with the aerial—right under the eagle's beak."

This, he asserted, would enable persons outside the embassy to listen to conversations in the ambassador's office.

Lodge later said he did not know when the listening device was discovered—"I've had it three or four days, waiting for a good chance to use it."

Nixon's Aides Check Kennedy Expenses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's campaign aides are looking into Democratic spending in the May 10 West Virginia primary—particularly by Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Disclosing this Thursday, Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, told a reporter he was not implying that there had been any fraudulent outlays.

Klein made it clear that Nixon is interested principally in how much Kennedy spent in sweeping the Democratic presidential popularity vote in a contest with Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn).

Klein said the purpose of the inquiry, which he said is being made by Nixon campaign volunteers, is to keep the vice president posted on the activities of Democratic hopefuls who may become his rival in the general election.

In this connection, Klein said in response to a question that Nixon continues to regard Kennedy as "the odds-on favorite" for the Democratic nomination.

"It is only natural that we keep an eye on what our Democratic rivals are doing," Klein said.

He added, however, that he was "not raising the implication that there was any wrongdoing in any way."

In comment on Klein's assertions, Pierre Salinger, press secretary to Kennedy, issued this statement: "I know th it greatly disturbs Vice President Nixon that Sen. Kennedy won the West Virginia primary with 61½ percent of the vote that carried 49 of the 55 counties. We would be delighted to make public what we spent in West Virginia and intend to do so. We also would be very interested if Vice President Nixon and his supporters would tell us what they spent in Indiana and Oregon."

The Justice Department already has ordered an inquiry into charges that there was vote-buying and fraud in some of the West Virginia contests.

Asked if Nixon supporters were looking for general election campaign material, Klein replied: "We're just looking for the facts."

Klein was asked if Nixon himself had taken steps to see to it that his backers had not overspent in primaries in which he has been entered unopposed but in which get-out-the vote campaigns have been conducted by Republicans.

"This hasn't been necessary," he replied.

Snake Dies Of Human Bite

JONESBORO, Ark., (AP — Returned from a recent visit to a Memphis, Tenn., relative, Mrs. Jim Chrisco gives a new twist to the man-bites-dog story.

She said she put her 10 month old son, Jeffrey, in a play pen in the yard. When she checked on him she found the tot playing with a small snake.

Horrified, Mrs. Chrisco grabbed up her son, put the snake into her purse and rushed to a doctor. Jeffrey had not been harmed.

The snake, non-poisonous, didn't fare so well. Bitten in four places by the small boy, it died.

Governor Sees Motorist Smash Band Children

MADAWASKA, Maine (AP) — An automobile hurtled through a high school band group that was massed for a parade Thursday, injuring 12 children and their band director.

Three youngsters are on the danger list at a hospital in adjacent Edmundston, N. B. Police said they were dragged beneath the car as it careened through a parking lot and plunged down an embankment.

The driver, George Pelletier, 62-year-old unemployed construction worker of Madawaska, was booked on a drunken-driving charge and released in $5,000 bail.

Patrolman Norman Alberts quoted Pelletier as saying the car's accelerator pedal stuck.

Maine's Gov. John H. Reed, here to dedicate a new customs building in this border town, was an eye witness.

He said:

"The parade (to the customs house) was all ready to go. The band had tuned up. I was in the lead car. I heard a crash like a car upsetting. I turned around and this car was going through the guard rail awfully fast. It's a miracle nobody was killed. Children were tossed into the air and all over the place. It (the car) plowed right through the band. It was terrible, one of the most tragic scenes I've ever witnessed."

President Welcomes Senatorial Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Thursday assured top Democratic and Republican congressional leaders he welcomes avowedly nonpolitical inquiry, said Eisenhower agreed with him —and will cooperate fully with—a Senate inquiry into the spy plane episode and the summit crackup.

Reporting this, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen that "in turn, the entire group agreed that the inquiry should be conducted on a completely nonpartisan and truly bipartisan basis." Hagerty said Eisenhower pledged to consider "any recommendations such an inquiry might make."

• • •

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas gave a like report after 10 senators, 13 House members and several Cabinet-level officials conferred with Eisenhower.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois concurred and said Eisenhower made "a plea for unanimity of spirit and feeling."

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark), whose Senate Foreign Relations Committee will open an that both parties should stop accusing each other of being soft toward communism and "quit competing with each other" over which would be tougher with the Russians.

Hagerty, who sat in, described it as "one of the best meetings I have ever attended." He said the Democratic and Republican congressmen "were there as Americans and not as party members."

In other developments:

1. Hagerty reported the Russians were going all out in jamming broadcasts to the Soviet Union of Eisenhower's appeal for businesslike dealings in the interests of peace. This was the speech Eisenhower made Wednesday night to the American people over BV and radio.

"It is obvious the Russian leaders did not have the courage to let the Russian people hear the President's speech," Hagerty said. He also protested that the official Soviet news agency Tass gave Eisenhower's message short shrift.

2. At the United Nations Security Council in New York, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko denounced Eisenhower's speech and rejected the President's proposal for an international aerial surveillance system. Gromyko called the plan another scheme to spy on the Soviet Union.

3. Fifty-five Democrats—8 senators and 47 House members—asked that Adlai E. Stevenson, their party's presidential candidate in 1952 and 1956, be given equal air time to reply to Eisenhower's summit U2 report.

The meeting will bring together workers and leaders who have been meeting in Moscow to discuss means of increasing production.

A WEEK OF SUNSHINE WILL DO IT—Chairmen for the Pottstown Rose Society's ninth annual rose show examine roses in the gardens at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Haws, Douglassville. The rose bushes are crowded with unopened buds and this is as it should be, the group agrees. One week of sunshine should put the flowers at their peak. The time should coincide with the show date, Saturday, June 4. The rainy weather has been a good omen to rose growers who plan to vie for trophies and prizes at the event in North Coventry Elementary school. Moisture means large flowers and good foliage. Judges base a good many points on just the foliage. Clyde Haws (right) examines several of the buds and discusses the show outlook with those standing (left to right) Mrs. Victor Ayres, chairman of rose arrangements; Warren Hoffman, general co-chairman; Mrs. Edmund Engle, placement chairman, and Mrs. Floyd Bachman, co-chairman of decorating. Mr. Haws, also is a general co-chairman.

Questions on Sex Education Answered For Pottsgrove PTA By Psychologist

Dr. George Spivak answered the question "are we handling sex education effectively and intelligently," for members of the Lower Pottsgrove school Parent-Teacher association Thursday evening in the school cafeteria.

Psychologist and director of research at Devereaux schools, Dr. Spivak told members, "we should teach the child what he wants to know but remember to teach only as much as he can absorb."

He pointed out that the attitude of the person teaching, notably the parent, is very important. "Matter-of-factness in answering a question also is important," the speaker continued. "In our own uneasiness on a sex question from a child, we can change the whole viewpoint.

"Our main responsibility," he said, "is to communicate with the child only when he asks, but then not more than he asks for."

Dr. Spivak also stressed the fact that parents should inform the child of society's appraisal and the value of sex.

In conclusion he said "today's adolescent is a reflection of today's society."

A discussion period followed.

Mrs. Ronald Neiman conducted a brief business meeting. Mrs. George F. Gibbons, Montgomery County Council PTA advisor, then installed the following officers: president, Mrs. Neiman; first vice president, Mrs. Joseph Fritsche; second vice president, Mrs. Elmer E. Saylor.

Also, secretary, Mrs. John Wanger and treasurer, Mrs. John Bauer.

MEMO to Mothers of teenage girls: Your daughter is more mature than you were at her age, and you may as well face the fact! Young girls begin to notice fashions at an early age, and they want to learn about them. Help your daughter to acquire a basic knowledge of good buying habits, help her establish certain rules for her own personal choices, help her to learn the value of dollars spent. You can do this by giving her just a taste of the responsibility involved in having a charge account! Having her very own Junior Charge Account will make your daughter realize the importance of investing carefully in clothes. A brand new idea at

RUSSELLS, 261 High street, is the JUNIOR CHARGE ACCOUNT which can be opened for teenage high school girls (with Mother's consent, of course!). The young fashion-conscious girl can shop at Russells, charge up to $12 and pay her account at a dollar a week If she pays the balance in less time she has another $12 available on her charge. There is no service charge, no fee at all for this service! It is offered to help teen age girls learn the value of spending money and to teach them responsibility. Your daughter will hesitate to buy when she knows it will mean paying a dollar a week out of her baby sitting money or her allowance' She will hesitate, consider, make certain it is a good choice! No more impluse buying of the fad of the moment! Hers will be a careful selection when she knows it's "on her charge." Bright news to Mothers and Dads is that at Russells everything is exchangeable without any questions—so if you don't approve of that strapless gown, back it goes! Let your daughter stop at Russells with her girlfriends and browse to her heart's content. Permit her to make selections "on her own." You'll be surprised at how sensible they will be! And it will save you a great deal of time if she does her own shopping! Russells offers this JUNIOR CHARGE ACCOUNT to high school teenagers as a friendly service — because they know young girls love the importance of having their very own "charge." Their expert personnel is there to tactfully guide her in her selections if she requests help. Visit Russells today and get her application for a Junior Charge Account!

In my opinion there's no style quite like a one piece dress for the woman in maternity wear. I'm in a minority, I know, but I can't resist the chic look of a one piece dress that depends on clever styling for concealment. There are a few of these masterpieces in the stunning collection of dresses at

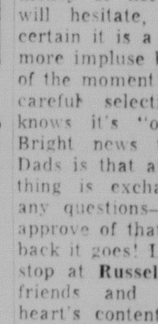
MATERNITY MINDED, a shop devoted to your very special needs! And while the style is a minority one, let's talk about it for a moment, anyway. You'll feel very brave and fashionable wearing a lovely white cotton in a modified sheath style. ($17.98)



A beautiful pure silk dress is a floral print of pink flowers, it's charm is in the softness of the fabric, the originality of the print, the subtle styling. ($14.98) And these dresses are so very comfortable, take it from the gal who owned one! The selection of two piece dresses and three piece ensembles is absolutely beautiful at Maternity Minded, and there's lots more to choose from! They are from $3.98. A dressy dress of white daisies appliqued at the neckline, it's a slubbed cotton. ($14.98) A plaid ensemble has a lovely pleated top to be worn alone in hot weather, a pretty blouse to add if you wish, a sheath skirt. ($10.98) The practical part of owning a two piece dress is that it becomes an active member of your wardrobe! And with the large selection of tops, skirts, shorts and capri pants at Maternity Minded, you can have a holiday mix-ing and match-ing! Tops range in price from $2.98 and include every style from a dressy white pleated to a "patchwork quilt" creation! (The latter has straw hat, pants and skirt to match!) Skirts are from $3.98 and include solid colors, plaids, prints and stripes. Slacks and Bermudas are in white, black, grey, loden, red, blue, beige and prints, also from $3.98. The lingerie department includes slips, girdles, panties, brassieres and sleepwear. Maternity Minded has maternity uniforms, swim suits, play suits, sweaters, and dungarees! Located next to the Bride Shop, at 372 High street, it's a lovely place to shop!

JOSEPH W. MOYER'S JEWELRY AND GIFT SHOP, located at 24 North Charlotte street. The watch that most interests me is a Universal Geneva Swiss watch that is available in two ladies' styles that slip on changeable bands! It's the fashion scoop of the season that a woman can wear her lovely watch for formal evenings with a black satin band, wear it for sports with a suede or red leather band, or can match it to the color scheme of her ensemble with a pale blue or beige band! The design is a timeless beauty that will be even more lovely in years to come. Joseph W. Moyer has Lady and Lord Elgin, Hamilton and Lady Hamilton, Bulova, Doxa, and Timex. The Doxa-Grafic is a self winding calendar watch with pure modern lines and matching colored face and band. (About $65) Other styles are from $6.95 to as high as you may wish to go. There are plain sport watches for men and women, diamond encrusted watches, gold or silver cases, in many, many styles. You have the double guarantee of the famous name brand you select and of Joseph W. Moyer!

Caressa's straw shoes have a multi colored decoration at the front, others are natural straw woven with touches of orange and blue straw! Imaginative! La Scala shoes made in Italy are cushion-soled leather beauties. Created with a thong, with cross straps, or with a leather woven front they are really good-looking shoes. READY TO FILL BUNS—baked in your own kitchen are a delicious and handy basic food for holiday picnics.

Crusty Hollow Buns, Hamburger Filled Are Delicious Fare for Outdoor Dining

Crusty hollow buns filled with hamburger mixture are a gourmet touch for holiday picnics. The hollow is made by wrapping yeast dough around a ball of foil. After baking, cut open, remove foil and you have a hollow to fill with a salad or hamburger mixture.

Make yeast roll dough, divide into 16 pieces. Cut 12 pieces of aluminum foil, six inches square. Crumple a paper napkin into a ball and cover with foil and shape into a round bun-like shape. Roll each piece of dough into a circle, making outer edges thinner than center. Make larger than foil "bun."

Brush center of dough with melted butter, leaving just the edge to be pinched together. Wrap around foil bun and pinch edge together. Place on baking sheet, pinched side down. Cover and let rise in a warm place, 85 degrees, for one hour. Heat oven to 425 degrees, bake ten to 15 minutes. Brush with butter, cut around bun through center and remove foil. Fill hollow half of bun with your favorite filling and top with other half.

A yeast dough made with biscuit mix cuts preparation time considerably.

Area PTA Hears School Board Member Tell Need for Property Re-evaluation

Re-evaluation and re-assessment of properties in New Hanover township was discussed at the May meeting of New Hanover-Upper Frederick Elementary school PTA at the school.

James Horne, representing New Hanover, Swamp and Fagleysville School boards, read a letter that had been circulated to all home owners in the township regarding the issue. He explained that investigation showed that in many instances properties were not adjudged fairly due to changes in the communities. Other properties are over-assessed.

Mr. Horne emphasized the School boards' concern was in securing adequate school facilities and to do this, adequate funds are necessary. Reassessment seemed the fairest way to begin.

The boards outlined a plan wherein two men would be appointed to work with the assessment board of Norristown to re-evaluate and re-assess the 1100 properties. J. Russell Brode and Victor Nyce were named to the posts.

The two men would call on all homeowners and evaluate their properties. Every homeowner has the right to appeal the assessment. He emphasized this must be done within the next three months. The new assessment would be in effect for 1961 taxes.

During the discussion which followed, property owners' questions elicited the information taxes for renters are set by the State.

In reply to the question "why wasn't New Hanover township zoned?" Mr. Horne pointed out this is the responsibility of township supervisors. Persons interested in planning the growth and proper development of their township, in governing what could or could not come into the township, should attend the supervisors meeting held at the New Hanover school at 8 p. m. the second Wednesday of each month.

Officers were installed by Mrs. Franklin Molin, representing Montgomery county PTA council, as follows: president, Wilmer Hollowbush; first vice president, Mrs. Wayne Meng; second vice president, Edward Deysher; recording secretary, Mrs. Stephen DeCowsyk; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Stephen Kulakowsky and treasurer, Mrs. Bruce Fegley.

A concert by the New Hanover-Upper Frederick Elementary school band preceded the business meeting. Four selections were played under direction of Robert Hartman, Elementary school instrumental instructor.

Bruce Shellaway, Alan Lysinger, John Nickerle, Craig Haring, Pamela Bolhofer, Kenneth Mauger, Tommy Little, Susan Stauffer, Connie Bickel, Judy Settle, Susan Haas, Mary Ann Plank.

Sandra Groff, Glenn Lysinger, Tony Coccia, James Gilley, Daniel Seasholtz, Raymond Groff, Donald Wirt, Charles Heydt, Ronald Staufflet, Terry O'Connor and Roger Moyer.

Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee, headed by Mrs. Oliver Reid and Mrs. Kenneth Stauffer.

By ALICE ALDEN

RAINWEAR—becomes more enticing all the time. Fortunately, many raincoats have been designed with an eye to Old Sol as well as Jupiter Pluvius. Adele Lawrence did this example of pure silk with a print of huge red roses strewn in mad profusion over its svelte, double-breasted lines. The coat has notched revers, slashed pockets and turn-back cuffs. There is also a matching French beret for a frankly flirtatious look.

preciate the influence of their parents and teachers and that they should see that this influence is channeled through themselves. "This is your obligation," he said.

"The dedicated, under paid teacher, feels that their influence on you would be the capstone to your education," he said.

"Influence doesn't have to be a big thing like atomic bombs or foreign politics. You can influence persons over the back yard fence. The important thing is to stand up for your principles. Take the world of influence and attach it to truth," Merbreier said.

"To pursue truth, and to use your influence is often a difficult thing," he said.

IN CONCLUSION Merbreier challenged the legislative bodies "that give continued support to lackadaisical parents whose lack of influence will keep one out of 18 persons from graduating from high school under normal circumstances."

The Rev. Merbrer serves as consultant to the Juvenile Aid division of the Philadelphia Police department and in 1958 was cited as the "Outstanding Young Man of the Year" by both the Philadelphia and the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce.

Awarding the diplomas was Robert L. Fisher, supervising principal of the Pottsgrove Joint School system.

The gold and maroon curtains on the stage framed the pupils as they filed onto the stage to receive the diploma. Many of the girls dabbed at their eyes to dry tears.

APPLAUSE rippled through the auditorium as each senior received the diploma. After the ceremonies, smiles that could only be formed after 12 years of hard work, were displayed by the graduating group.

But as one white capped graduate said, "it's only the beginning."

Officials Hear Outline of Retirement Plan

Nearly a score of Pottstown officials Thursday attended a conference about retirement plans for municipal employes.

Speaker at the dinner meeting of the Montgomery County Borough's association at Spring-Ford country club, Royersford, was Robert S. Lewis, director of research for the Pennsylvania Economy league.

Pottstown officials at the meeting included Lewis J. Board Raises Tax, Budget

The real estate tax was increased two mills Thursday night by the Collegeville school board to meet a budget of $153,680. The budget, tentatively passed at the last meeting, was approved unanimously.

The increase to 45 mills was necessitated, according to Rex Reichert, president of the board, by the $11,000 budget hike. The 1959-60 budget was $142,275.

Per capita tax will remain at $15 and the real estate transfer tax at 1 percent. The township has no occupation tax.

The board also authorized the payment of bills totalling $11,012.15. Receipts of $980 were reported. The balance on hand as of May 26 was $22,260.76, according to Dr. Paul R. Wagner, who was elected treasurer of the board.

Driver Regulations Explained to MORA

Nelson M. Gehman, manager of the Pottstown Automobile club, spoke to the YMCA MORA club Thursday on the new regulations for older drivers.

Fifty-nine members and two guests attended the meeting at the YMCA. Guests were William Mayberry and Harry Hale.

Presiding was Wilfred S. Binder, president. Next Thursday the club will make a tour of the Pottstown disposal plant. The group will meet at the YMCA at 1:30 p.m.

Annie Reitnauer Admitted to Hospital

Mrs. Annie Reitnauer, 78, of Hill Church-Landis Store road near Boyertown, was reported "doing fine" at Pottstown hospital Thursday.

The charming little old lady who attracted widespread attention early last month when the pre-Revolutionary home she occupied with her husband, William, 80, collapsed, was admitted to the hospital recently for treatment of a heart condition and a touch of pneumonia.

Nurses indicated she has fast made herself a favorite of patients and staff members alike with her keen mind and witty tongue.

House Votes Return Of Cigaret Tax Money

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The House voted Thursday to return to the states for school construction one fourth of the money collected from federal taxes on cigarets sold in each state. This proposal by Rep. Frank Bow (R-Ohio) was accepted subject to possible reversal on a later roll call vote.

Burn Victim Is Still Critical

Vincent DeVeau, Norristown, remains critical in Memorial hospital after suffering severe electric burns. DeVeau was injured Wednesday when he touched a high tension wire in Limerick.

CAR BURNS

A pumper from the Kimberton Fire company extinguished a fire that destroyed an auto owned by Frank Henderson, Philadelphia, at 2:30 p. m. Thursday on Horseshoe trail road near Kimberton.

The blaze broke out when Henderson dropped a fuel line on the starter of his car and caused a short circuit. No one was injured.

BOY CALLED 'DANGEROUS' BY OFFICER

HE ATTACKED Mrs. Anastasia with a wrench when he found her in a second floor bedroom, striking her several times, and cutting her scalp twice.

It was Johns third contact with police. On Jan. 26, 1959, he was arrested by Pottstown police and admitted burglarizing three homes, taking nearly $200 in cash and two revolvers.

Prior to that he had been picked up by police for stealing women's undergarments from clotheslines. He was released after that offense.

Following his arrest for the three Pottstown area burglaries, he was turned over to Peter J. Frascino, chief juvenile probation officer.

At the suggestion of the youth's parents, a mental commission was appointed by Judge Forrest. The commission recommended that the youth be committed to Norristown State hospital.

He remained in the hospital until March 14, when he was released in his parent's custody. His parents sent him to Florida for a visit with an uncle, but he returned to Pottstown in a few weeks.

FRASCINO RELATED these details to Judge Forrest, concluding with his belief that "there is no doubt that he is dangerous."

The youth's father was at the hearing, but his mother remained at home, Johns is the second oldest of five children.

"I'm heartbroken over this," she reported Thursday night." I've thought and thought and thought about this and I don't know what can be done. I'm at a dead end."

Mrs. Johns said that she didn't know whether it would have been better to recommit her son to the Norristown State hospital where he could receive mental treatment or to the industrial school.

"I don't know what causes him to act this way. I just don't know," she explained.

THE ATTACK on Mrs. Anastasia on May 19 came shortly after noon. Dr. Anastasia said that the teen-ager attacked his wife when he came across her in the bedroom while she waited for a woman friend.

Johns, the doctor said, threatened to kill his wife, but the blows from the wrench were deflected when they glanced off an overhanging lamp.

"The lamp probably saved my wife's life," Dr. Anastasia reported.

Mrs. Anastasia identified Johns after he was arrested Friday morning by Chief Harry Chrusch at his home. He had spent Thursday night in Norristown jail for violating the curfew, but was released in the morning in his parent's custody.

Johns told Chief Chrusch that he walked to Norristown—some 25 miles—via back roads in about six hours.

In the 1959 trio of burglaries, he entered two homes on Sunnybrook road, Pottstown Route 18, and a home on Hale street. He later was arrested at a bowling alley.

Riches Promised When Wells Gushed

ing fraudulent oil securities.

A spokesman said he believes the prosecuting attorney in Ohio will fight to have Walters extradited.

Walters told Chief Hahn he was also wanted in a third Ohio county.

Walters moved into the Boyertown inn May 12, and immediately began impressing all with whom he came into contact as being "very friendly and a real gentleman."

Except for a briefcase which he kept constantly at his side and two suitcases, he was alone.

SOON AFTER moving in Walters began making the rounds of land owners in the Landis Store area.

He spoke in glowing terms of the oil he was "certain" was to be found in the area, and promised fantastic monetary rewards to those far-sighted enough to invest sums starting at $1000 in the search for the precious black liquid.

From others he wanted only the chance to dig on their land and he would make them rich.

One of those approached by Walters was Frederick Roscher, an artist who owns 363 acres near Landis Store.

ROSCHEF said Walters "gave me $5 for the right to dig on my land and told me to frame it after I got my first $500 royalty check."

Roscher was also promised one-eighth of the proceeds if oil was found on his property.

"The man was a little too courteous," Roscher said. "He said things like 'It is so gracious of you to let me come in and sign you up for a lease'."

Roscher indicated he was also suspicious of Walters' use of words like geophysical, and his reference to half a million dollars worth of equipment and huge labor gangs.

WALTERS TOLD Roscher he flew over the area a month ago in a plane loaded with oil-detecting gear.

Walters said "the needles or the equipment went like crazy" when the plane flew over Landis Store.

Roscher said Walters told him estimates led him to believe the oil was 7000 feet beneath the surface of the ground

Walters visited Roscher, who owns an enormous, temple-like home near Landis Store, twice.

The first time he came to explain his "find." The second time he arrived in a new car which he said he had rented, along with a chauffer, in Pottstown and presented Roscher with a lease to sign.

Told of Walters' arrest Thursday night, Roscher said "I'm not disappointed. I'm a contented artist—and what artist needs oil wells around his pavillion?"

ADOLPH WEINSTEIGER also signed one of Walters' leases. Weinsteiger said Walters promised him as much as $17,000 a month if oil or gas were found on his 153 acres.

"I'm disappointed to hear of his arrest," Weinsteiger said. "He was so courteous and friendly."

A Boyertown businessman said Walters approached him and offered to sell stocks for natural gas for $1000 per share.

The expected profit on each share, Walters told his prospective client, was a quarter of a million dollars.

WALTERS TOLD the Boyertown man he was representing an oil syndicate in Houston, Texas. He pinpointed what he termed a "hot spot" for natural gas in an area north of Bally.

"Walters was courtly and asked me who the farmers were in the 'target area.' I told him and he came back with signed leases."

The businessman — who did not invest — said Walters warned him that "oil prospecting is a gamble."

Chief Hahn, accompanied by State Police Sgt. Francis Haffey of the Jeffersonville barracks and Boyertown Police Chief Henry Groff, approached Walters as he entered the inn lobby Thursday afternoon.

Chief Hahn said Walters was very gracious when he was told he was under arrest.

"Would you mind if I went upstairs to pack my bags?" Walters asked.

"Certainly not," the chief answered, "if I may go along."

"It will be a pleasure to have you," Walters said.

BLITZING THE RECORDS—American track and field athletes continue to break records, with these three grabbing most of the spotlight. Dyrol Burleson of Oregon runs the mile in 3:58.6, best ever by an American, John Thomas of Boston U, continues to assault the high jump records, best ever 7 feet, 1¾ inches outdoors, and Bill Neider, ex-Kansas star, who put the shot 63 feet, 10¼ inches to crack the World mark again.

PIAA Championships Set At Penn State U. Today

UNIVERSITY PARK, (AP)—The 34th annual PIAA State Championships start here Friday with competition for the State schoolboy titles in golf and tennis.

Singles champions and doubles teams from nine districts will start shooting for tennis crowns in the two-day tournament as some 63 golfers tee off for the 54-hole medal-play competition.

Several state records, and possibly a National scholastic record, are expected to fall in the track and field championships Saturday. A total of 656 athletes from 175 schools are registered.

Ron Reitz, Conrad Weiser high school, will be back on Pennsylvania State University's par 69 golf course to defend his State title. Reitz won last year with a score of 215.

• • •

THE 1959 SINGLES and doubles tennis champions will not be back this year.

In the track and field competition, the spotlight is expected to be on the mile run.

Joe Thomas, Uniontown, who won last year's title in 4:27.6, is expected to break the State scholastic record and may come close to the National mark.

Before this year, the best schoolbay mile in Pennsylvania was in 1955 when Fred Kerr, West York, was clocked in 4:22.4. The National mark is 4:11.

THOMAS POSTED a 4:14.9 in the Mount Lebanon Invitational this year and won the District 7 mile at Mount Lebanon last Saturday in 4:16.1.

Although there will be 20 runners in the field, the defending champion's closest competition is expected to come from Henry Horn, Lancaster, who won the District 3 competition at Lancaster last week in 4:21.5.

In class B, Gene McCleary, Cornwall high school, is expected to break the record of 162 feet, ½ inch he set last year in winning the discus throw. McCleary bettered the toss in the recent district 3 meet with a heave of 174 feet, 7½ inches.

Others who made good showings last year and have shown improvement are: in class A, Don Webster, Kennett Consolidated, 440 run, and Gary Meckley, Kane, Pole Vault; in class B, Dick Hart, Morrisville, shot put.

SANFORD GETS 4-HIT WIN TO BEST CONLEY

Cepeda, Mays, Bressoud Blast 4-Baggers In Rout

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The rampaging San Francisco Giants swept their three-game series from the Philadelphia Phillies as right-hander Jack Sanford hurled a four-hit 9-0 shutout Thursday night for his fifth triumph.

In beating the last place Phillies for the sixth time in six meetings this season, the West Coasters increased their National League lead to a game and half over the idle Pittsburgh Pirates.

Orlando Cepeda, Eddie Bressoud and Willie Mays supplied the bat power for the Giants with home runs.

Cepeda connected for his eighth against big Gene Conley with Willie McCovey on base in the second inning. Bressoud clouted a shot off the left field roof with the bases empty in the seventh, his fourth.

Mays poled his fourth round-tripper with two on in the ninth to finish off a five-run ruckus.

The Giants added another unearned run off Ruben Gomez in the eighth. Willie Mays was safe on Al Dark's error and went to third on McCovey's single. He scored after Tony Taylor made a running catch of Cepeda's foul down the right field line.

Sanford, who blanked the Phillies 1-0 with two hits in San Francisco on May 12th, effectively scattered four singles after helping himself out of a sticky situation in the first inning.

Johnny Callison opened the game for the Phillies by walking.

He went to third on Taylor's bunt single and a throwing error by McCovey. But Sanford picked Taylor off first, got Tony Curry on a short fly to Mays before Harry Anderson grounded out.

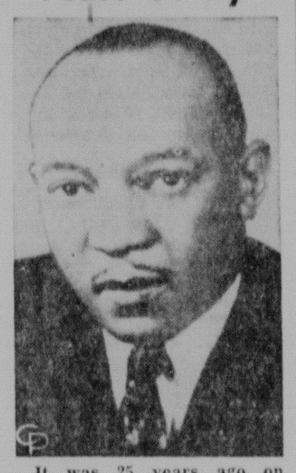
Years Go By



It was 25 years ago on Thursday, that the "Buckeye Bullet" — Jesse Owens — staged one of the greatest track and field performances in the history of the sport. Owens, who now works with a Youth Commission in Chicago, set three World records and tied another in the Big Ten track meet at Ann Arbor, Mich. Jesse is seen in recent photo.

Rodriguez KO's Cota in Second At Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, (AP) — Luis Rodriguez of Cuba knocked out Mexico's Alfred Cota in the second round Thursday night, then hurried to catch a plane for Las Vegas, Nev.

There he planned to issue a challenge to the winner of Friday night's welterweight title fight between champion Don Jordan of Los Angeles and Cuban Benny Peret.

Rodriguez backed Cota against the ropes and floored him with a left hook for a count of nine.

COTA ROSE groggily but went down again as Rodriguez hit him with both hands. Cota was up at 8 and the bell saved him.

Rodriguez weighed 145, Cota 143½. The bout drew a disappointing crowd of 3,000.

Kennedy to Get Look

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bill Kennedy, Temple university's basketball and baseball star, will have a tryout with the Pittsburgh Pirates at Forbes field this weekend. Pittsburgh is one of three teams seeking the Temple athlete. The New York Yankees and Washington Senators also have made overtures.

The Point Spread . . .

From Death's Door to Top Trojan Athlete

By WARREN HOWARD
(Mercury Sports Writer)

A WAG SAID RECENTLY that if Herbie Score doesn't make it with the Chicago White Sox this year, he could cut off his arm and hang it on the mantlepiece along with that Most Courageous athlete trophy he got down there in Philadelphia.

On the face of it, the statement was a bit callous, but the fact remains that Score hasn't as yet proved himself since his bout with a line drive to the eyeball. Of course, the trophy was presented because Score had the courage to stay in the game.

Heeb Meyers

Bronk Glenn

This corner feels that such awards are a good thing, that is, if anybody cares what this corner thinks. It's a pity that they aren't carried to greater lengths, such as down to the high school level.

Among the candidates for such an award would be Conestoga's Alan Larkin, who overcame a bout with polio to become the Pioneer's top pitcher, despite the fact that he slipped somewhat toward the close of the year.

CLOSER TO HOME however, is Bronk Glenn, one of the top athletes at Pottstown High. Glenn didn't perform any eye-opening feats in last week's District One track and field championships, but has another year of competition left.

It was only five years ago that Glenn was hospitalized in Philadelphia, where doctors feared for his life. He was being given blood transfusions at a tremendous rate, and had actually been given a life expectancy of two months.

He recovered of course, and became one of the Trojans' top ends during last football season. In fact, he was head coach Heber T. Meyers' choice for the spot on the All-Ches-Mont team which his teammate at the other terminal, Bill Luckett, received. (This doesn't cast ill on Luckett, but merely that Glenn was to an extent, overlooked.)

He started last basketball season with the junior varsity, and was one of the rebounding mainstays, but was moved up to the varsity less than midway through the campaign, and earned a couple of starting assignments against lesser foes. At 5-11, 165 pounds however, his basketball capabilities are limited.

HE BEGAN TO sparkle again with the opening of the Spring track season, where he competed in the low hurdles, high jump and broad jump most of the year, winning several events, though his top high jump was 5-6.

He had his first taste of the sprints as a member of a 440-yard relay team which Meyers entered in the Penn Relays. It failed to gain a place in the finals, but with all four members back next year Meyers feels that a better showing is inevitable.

He has run the 100-yard dash only once, but it was good for a 10.4-second clocking, which is far from poor for a first running. It is, infact, one of the better clockings of a poor sprint season for the rebuilding Trojans.

He broad-jumped 20 feet, 4½ inches last Thursday against The Hill school jayvees, which was also far and away over his previous best. All this mind you, with fully another year of eligibility remaining.

AND THOUGH NONE of the above feats would win a league meet, if Glenn's rate of improvement through last season continues in 1961, he could conceivably broad jump 21 feet and turn in a 10.1 century before another year is out.

Glenn of course, isn't the first athlete to overcome an illness. There have been cases where athletes have actually taken advantage of a handicap, which forced them to give up one sport, and gone on to excel in another.

He is however, the prime example on the local scene. But then an athlete, or anyone else for that matter, should be commended in such a case. It's so much easier to sit down and be waited on hand and foot.

Rainouts Hurt Milwaukee Braves, Doubleheader Press to Come Later

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Opposing managers take note — the Milwaukee Braves with nine postponements already this season have picked up four extra doubleheaders and lost three open dates.

The doubleheaders are piling up fast on Milwaukee manager Charley Dressen. A rained out contest with San Francisco May 19 may be played as part of a doubleheader June 21.

This makes three doubleheaders for the Braves during their June 14-26 home stand where they originally had only one. The other one added is with Chicago June 15.

In addition, an open date June 13, before the home stand starts was filled with a day game at San Franscisco, and another open date, June 20, has been taken for makeup night game with Los Angeles at county stadium.

IF THERE'S one thing managers of pennant contenders such as Billy Rigney of the Giants or Danny Murtaugh of the Pirates would like to see, it's the Braves' pitching staff being overtaxed by constant work while their clubs remain rested and fresh.

Things are bound to get worse, even if the Braves don't have any additional postponements, since two more rainouts have to be rescheduled.

Dressen has spent this year so far moaning because none of his pitchers have been able to get regular work. After suffering due to postponements, Dressen is afraid he'll suffer a second time trying to find hurlers for all the doubleheaders.

The performance of Juan Pizzaro the last Sunday game raised Dressen's hopes that he would have at least six starters ready to go when the press of games starts.

Former Dartmouth Grid Coach to Retire Soon

HANOVER, N. H., (AP)—Tuss McLaughry, head football coach at Dartmouth from 1941 to 1954, will retire from the faculty next month, the college said Thursday.

He has served as associate director of athletics and a professor of physical education. McLaughry is a former president of the American Football Coaches Association.

Trojan Golfers Trip Boyertown In Finale, 12-3

Pottstown High's golfers closed out their 1960 season with a 12-3 victory over Boyertown on the Brookside country club course.

Bob DeLong, Al Butler, Phil Welch and Harris Leventhall all gained 3-0 victories for the Trojans.

DeLong defeated Roger Lahr of Boyertown, Al Butler, the day's medalist with an 81, turned back Ken Gabel, Welch defeated Tom Wilkie and Leventhal won over Dayton Kohl 3-0.

Judy Maute, playing No. 4 for the Trojans defaulted to Steve Blanc on the official card, but won the match, played as an exhibition.

In junior varsity competition Gary Hauder of Pottstown High defeated the best ball of a Boyertown twosome of John Freese and Tom Kershner, 5-up.

The Trojans closed their season with an even-up 5-5 log.

Ramos Five-Hitter Nets Nats 5-2 Nod Over Bosox

WASHINGTON (AP) —Pedro Ramos limited Boston to five hits Thursday night for a 5-2 victory as Washington handed the Red Sox their 11th loss in 12 games.

It was Ramos' second straight victory after starting the season with five defeats.

Washington hopped on starter Jerry Casale for three runs in the fifth inning, taking advantage of three walks, a double by Bill Gardner and a single by Julio Becquer.

The Senators added two more in the seventh on a walk, an error, singles by Harmon Killebrew and Earl Battey and a sacrifice fly.

Boston scored single runs in the third and fourth. Vic Wertz singled in the third to drive in Marty Keough, who beat out an infield hit and moved to second on a fielder's choice.

In the fourth, a walk, an error and a single by Pete Runnels accounted for the other Red Sox run.

Ramos, getting three-run support for the first time and yet to give up more than three runs in any game, didn't allow the Red Sox a hit after the fifth. He walked four, struck out five and hit one man. Washington made four errors, but Ramos left 11 men stranded.

CHISOX SNAP LOSS STRING WITH 3-1 WIN

Brown, Minoso Lead Chicago With Big Hits

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Chicago White Sox broke a four-game losing streak Thursday night by defeating the Kansas City Athletics 3-1 behind the five-hit pitching of Bob Shaw and Gerry Staley.

Dick Brown tagged Dick Hall for a two-run homer in the second and Minnie Minoso tripled home a run against him in the third as the tall Kansas City right-hander suffered his first loss after winning four straight and compiling a 1.57 earned run average.

The Athletics scored their only run in the third inning when Andy Carey homered. It was his first since coming to the A's from the New York Yankees.

Shaw worked into the seventh inning when he weakened and had to have help from Staley who pulled him out of a jam.

Whitey Herzog opened with a walk. Marv Throneberry flied out and Harry Chiti was safe on an error by Gene Freese at third. Dick Williams, batting for Ken Hamlin, walked to load the bases.

Staley replaced Shaw and got Hank Bauer, batting for Hall, to bounce into a double play.

Staley retired the Athletics in order in the eighth and gave up a double while disposing of them in the ninth. The victory went to Shaw, his fourth against three losses.

Hall, who has been one of the early pitching sensations in the American League, was off form in the early innings but settled down and gave up only one hit from the fourth through the seventh.

In the third Al Smith beat out a slow bouncer to Carey and was sacrificed to second. Minnie Minoso tripled off the right field fence to score Smith.

The loss was the sixth for the Athletics in 10 starts on their current home stand but they managed to keep three percentage points ahead of last place Boston.

Orioles Lose League Lead as Yanks' Ford Spins Three-Hit Shutout Gem

NEW YORK (AP) — Whitey Ford's three-hit pitching sent Baltimore skidding out of the American League lead Thursday night as the New York Yankees defeated the Orioles 2-0.

The loss, ending Baltimore's winning streak at four, dropped the Birds to second, .012 percentage points behind the idle Cleveland Indians, in first place alone for the first time.

It was Ford's first complete game and second victory—both over Baltimore—in four decisions. The stubby southpaw had held the Birds hitless after losing pitcher Skinny Brown's third-inning single until rookie Marv Hansen blasted a two-out triple in the ninth.

Whitey then saved his first shutout since May 24, 1959, by striking out rookie Dave Nicholson. Ford's last shutout was a 9-0 job on the Orioles.

The Yankees beat Brown (3-1) with a first-inning run on Tony Kubek's leadoff single, a walk and a two-out single by Bob Cerv. They got their other run in the seventh when Bill Skowron singled for his second hit in 21 at-bats and came around on a sacrifice and Bobby Richardson's single.

Ford, now 19-7 lifetime against Baltimore, gave up four walks—three to Gene Woodling—and struck out two, both in the ninth. The other Baltimore hit was a ground-rule double by Brooks Robinson in the second inning.

The Yankees had seven hits, all off Brown, who walked just one and struck out four. Mickey Mantle, the Yankees' slumping centerfielder, now has gone 0-for-16.

Ford had the Orioles hitting into the ground all night. The Yankees, breaking a tie with idle Detroit for fourth place, came within 3 of the major league record for assists by an infield with 18.

Hespell Midgets Head Program at Williams Grove

WILLIAMS GROVE — Four cars carrying the colors of a Pennsylvania businessman are entered in Sunday's auto races for the 110 cubic-inch Offenhauser formerly called midgets) set as the Memorial Day Week-end Classic on the Williams Grove speedway.

Looking for a crushing victory from his four-man team in the 100-lap "Little Indianapolis" for the midgets is Harry Hespell, of Quarryville, a stone quarry operator.

Three of the drivers nominated (the fourth is to be selected by race time) by Hespell are the following top-ranking chauffers.

Len Duncan, of Philadelphia, the 1959 ARDC midget champion; Ed (Dutch) Schaeffer, of Floral Park, L.I., former champion and ARDC president, and Bobby Marshman, Pottstown RD 1, promising young star and son of famous big car ace George Marshman.

ALL THREE members of the Hespell team gave a good account of themselves in their last outing here on May 15, finishing second, third and sixth, respectively, in the 25-lap feature.

The trio will be out to beat Gig Stephens, of North Reading, Mass., winner of the main event on May 15, and Fred (Jiggs) Peters, Plainfield, N.J., who has a stranglehold on the century-grinds on the oval, scoring victories in 100-lap races for the past two years.

Among others battling for honors in the national championship race sanctioned by ARDC in co-operation with the U. S. Auto Club will be: Bert Brooks, New Britain, Conn., three-time URC big car champion; Ernie McCoy, Reading, a two-time starter in the Indianapolis Classic; Bill Randall, North Reading, Mass., 1957 USAC big car champion; Jim Schaeffer, New Castle, Art Pias, Elyria, O.; Red Riegel, Lessport; Tony Romit, Bronx, N. Y. and a score more hard-riding drivers.

Limerick Bowmen Card Hahn Memorial Shoot

The Limerick Bowmen will hold a May Hahn Memorial archery shoot Sunday on the club grounds.

The trophies for the 56-target shoot, held in honor of one of the club members who died recently, will be engraved with her name.

Registration will be held from 9:30 to 10 a.m., and the rain date for the event will be Monday, Memorial Day.

Spring City Legion Workouts Scheduled

The Spring City Legion team will practice this afternoon at 6 o'clock and tomorrow at 2 p.m. on the Spring-Ford Junior high field, Spring City.

All interested candidates are urged to attend the workouts. The Spring City unit will play its first game June 10 against Drexel Hill.

Another High Jump Record Expected To Tumble in IC4A Today, Tomorrow

PHILADELPHIA, (AP) — John Thomas, Boston university's sensational high jumper, and a rousing battle for the team title are expected to provide the main excitement today and tomorrow at the annual IC4A outdoor track championships at Villanova stadium.

The old IC4A high jump record of 6-10 appears certain to fall before the 19-year-old Sophmore from Boston university, who has cleared 7 feet 22 times and holds the unofficial World mark of 7-1¾ set last Saturday at M.I.T.

Penn State, the defending champion, Villanova, Yale and Manhattan are favored to fight it out for the team championship although 47 colleges are entered.

The enlarged 18-event program includes four changes from the 1959 schedule. The 440 hurdles has replaced the 220 low hurdles and the 3-mile has replaced the 2-mile. New events are the hop, step and jump and the 3000-meter steeplechase.

IN A special invitation 880 Saturday, Tom Murphy, the National AAU and Pan-American 800-meter champion, will meet Ed Moran and three others. They will be aiming at the Olympic qualifying mark of 1:49.8. There also will be a hop, step and jump Olympic development event.

Among the collegians, all Eastern track powers will be present with the exception of Army, which is engaged in a dual meet with Iowa. The four teams that are expected to fight for the title will clash head on in the 100 and 220 which could decide the championship.

Bob Brown of Penn State will defend his 100-yard title. Dick Engelbrink, Penn State's 2-mile winner last year, will run both the mile and the 880 and Bob Szeyller, Penn State's 220 low hurdles champ, will run the 440 hurdles.

Other defending champions are Maryland's Nick Kovalaki-goes in the javelin, and Bjorn Andersen in the pole vault. Boston university's John Lawlor in the hammer throw and Villanova's John Buckley in the broad jump. Buckley has won the broad jump the last two years.

MARYLAND'S BILL Johnson, 120 hurdles winner last year, can not compete because of a conflict with exams.

Penn State, a runaway winner last year with 46½ points but seventh in the indoor championships, has entered potential scorers in 15 of the 18 events, including the three 1959 winners—Brown, Engelbrink and Szeyller.

Villanova's only champ, is Buckley but Frank Budd and Paul Drayton, running in both the 100 and 220, are well regarded Sophomore sprinters Yale has entered 17 events with about half the team taking its final exams at Villanova with Villanova proctors. The top Eli stars are Jim Stack in the 440 and Tom Carroll, who has run a 1:49.8 half. Manhattan has been weakened by the loss of half miler Artie Evans, who is out because of a strained back, but coach George Eastment counts heavily on Joe Marchiony, the two-time indoor shotput champ, sprinter John Fernandez, Bill St. Clair in the half and the mile relay team.

Braves Pound Out 12-Hit Assault Enroute to 4-1 Win Over Cardinals

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves backed Bob Buhl's fireballing seven-hitter with a 12-hit attack Thursday night in a 4-1 victory which gave them a split of a two-game series with the St. Louis Cardinals.

The big right-hander delivered one of his sharpest games. He struck out nine, walked three, and finished with his third complete game, tops for the Braves. Buhl now has a 3-2 record.

Hank Aaron, the Braves' defending National League batting champ, led the way with 3-for-3, including a double, hiking his batting average to 339.

Aaron led off both of Milwaukee's scoring innings with hits against Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, Cards starter and loser.

Only Bob Nieman, veteran Redbird left-fielder, solved Buhl consistently. Nieman was 3-for-4, including a solo homer in the fifth, his first in the National League and is batting .565 since Manager Solly Hemus installed him as a regular in left.

But Nieman's error helped Milwaukee to an unearned run in a decisive three-run, second inning.

Joe Adcock and Buhl stroked run-scoring singles in the second after Aaron's leadoff double. Singles by Adcock and Aaron and Mel Roach's sacrifice fly scored the other Braves' run in the sixth. Ernie Broglio blanked Milwaukee the last two innings.

Buhl put down two Cardinal threats—in the seventh and ninth. Both times, Stan Musial and Nieman led off with singles. Buhl fanned the last two men in the ninth.

Alert Bluebirds in 5-2 Romp Over Colonel Nine

Schwenksville's Bluebirds employed three Collegeville-Trappe errors, a walk and an infield single to score three runs in a 5-2 Inter-County league win over the Colonels at Trappe Thursday.

The five-run spree broke a 2-2 stalemate and handed the defending champion Colonels their sixth loss against as many victories. It was the season-closer for the Colonels. The Birds have a rainout remaining with Schwenksville.

Bill Fenstermacher, who went the route to gain his second victory, surrendered five hits. Bob Tyson allowed but four hits, but a leaky defense led to his first downfall after three wins.

The Colonels struck first, collecting a run in the bottom of the first when Joe Fretz singled, stole second and was squeezed home by Paul Schatz.

* * *

THE BIRDS went ahead in the second on a walk to Bob Walters, an error which put Johnny Rowland on, and Jon Waddel's two-run double.

The Colonels again tied the score in the bottom of the second, however, when Bob Vigil singled, Doug Moyer laid down a neat sacrifice bunt and Bob Tyson doubled Vigil home.

The two pitchers then settled into a scoreless pattern which lasted two innings, before the Bluebirds' big uprising that wrapped up the game.

The Colonels committed six fielding errors, keeping a pattern which led to their downfall from the championship position of a year ago.

Preps Drop 6-5 Closing Tilt to St. Francis Nine

YORK — Perkiomen Prep's varsity baseballers closed out their 1960 baseball season on a low note Thursday, bowing to St. Francis Prep, 6-5 here.

The Preps held a 2-1 lead at the end of an inning, which they boosted to 3-1 in their half of the third, but the winners reached starter Ed Wolfsohn for three runs in the bottom of the inning and were never headed.

Wally MacPhearson, who played the final game behind the plate for the Preps, led the losers at the dish with a double and triple in four trips.

Lou Senger was the winning pitcher, though he exchanged places with catcher Dick McGraw in the seventh, when the Preps mounted a mild threat.

The Preps closed out with a 1-10 mark for the year.

A six-run second inning vaulted Holy Trinity out of a last-place stalemate with Diamond Glass and Minneapolis-Honeywell in the City Softball league standings at Memorial park Thursday night.

Holy Trinity handed the Whiz Kids, who were making their first start of the year, a 10-2 setback on the strength of the big inning.

The winners used four hits and two errors, coupled with a hit batsman to score the half dozen. The big blow was a single by Carl Stahl with three mates aboard.

Joe Stranick contributed a double and Monk Weber added a triple to the assault that started to put the skids under Bob Graham, the Whiz Kids starter.

HE LEFT two innings later after surrendering another Holy Trinity run.

Al Roen started on the mound for the winners, and pitched three-hit ball for three innings, fanning four. Merril Renninger came on in relief and worked the final four frames, allowing both Whiz Kids runs.

Renninger's stint however, earned him the victory, his first of the year. Roen left the game too soon to become the pitcher of record.

Legion Steelers Card Practice Saturday at 1:00

The Pottstown Steelers, American Legion Junior team sponsored jointly by USWA 2326 and the George A. Amole post 47, will hold its first workout tomorrow at 1 o'clock on Enterprise field.

All area candidates who desire to play with the team this season are requested to report to the field at that time.

Steeler manager Pat Sundstrom noted that the team had seven "graduates" last year, leaving "plenty of jobs open if the boys want to come out and hustle for them."

The Steelers were hardest hit in the pitching ranks, with Jan Fritz, George McLain, Jim Mullen and Bill Spencer among the missing, along with first baseman Paul Schadler, outfielder-catcher Ken Roberts and shortstop supreme Tommy Jump.

AMONG THE expected returnees however, are catchers Jim Clements and Joe Wambach, infielders Barry Swartz, Eddie Laws, Bob Goodhart and Steve Torak, outfielders Bob Yeager, Bill Logan, Nick Petro and Eddie Wanish.

The latter pair is also expected to aid the pitching corps, of which southpaw Pete Barth represents the lone returnee.

The Steelers will open the Ches-Mont league season June 13 at Enterprise field, but have three exhibition games on the card prior to the league opening.

They will meet Perkasie of the Bux-Mont league, an old foe June 4, Norristown's Melnick Esso June 5 and Fort Washington of the Lower Montco circuit, another old adversary, June 12.

Boys who played at High schools in the surrounding area are eligible to try out for the team.

Perkiomen Post Legion 9's Seek Team Candidates

The Perkiomen Post, 184, American Legion of East Greenville announced that it plans to sponsor two teams in the American Legion baseball program again this year.

The Perkiomen Juniors, in the 16-18 age bracket, will compete in the six-team Bux-Mont league while a second team, the Perkiomen Yankees, for 13-15 age boys, will play in the four-team Perkiomen Valley Connie Mack league.

The veteran John Brey of Red Hill has again been named coach of the Junior team which will open a 15-game schedule June 16 with Perkasie on the Perkiomen Prep field in Pennsburg.

Boys who do not reach their 19th birthday this year are eligible to try out for the positions. A majority of the Upper Perkiomen High squad is expected to report for the initial workouts June 1-2-3 at 6 p. m. on the home field. Leading holdovers from last year's team that posted an impressive 8-6-1 record are Larry Benner, Arlin Seasholtz and Ron Marks.

* * *

THE TEAM suffered a severe blow when last year's mainstay on the mound, Neil Walter entered Army service. Although a UPHS grad of a year ago, Neil still had a year of eligibility remaining for Legion play.

Francis Roncace, UPHS athletic director, will coach the Perkiomen Yankees who have already opened practice on the Perkiomen field in preparation for the home opener with Graterford June 10.

Boys who do not become 16 this year are eligible, and urged to try out for the team.

Carl M. Wahl, chairman of the Legion baseball program, has announced the appointment of Neil Brunner, former UPHS athlete, as team manager to assist coach Brey with the Juniors. Roncace is also expected to receive some help with the Yanks.

Pitt Sees Jersey Derby Victory for Bally Ache

CAMDEN, N.J., (AP)—Despite races on four successive Saturdays, including the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, Bally Ache isn't battle weary and will pull away from the field in the Jersey Derby Memorial Day, trainer Jimmy Pitt predicted Thursday.

Pitt arrived at Garden State park after a three day vacation to supervise final training of Bally Ache for the $100,000 added Jersey, a mile and an eighth run for 3-year-olds. The race features four of the first five Kentucky Derby finishers and two of the first three from the Preakness.

Bally Ache is the early 7-5 favorite in the expected field of six which will includes Tompion, Venetian Way, Bourbon Price, Celtic Ash, and Encanto. All will be asked to Carry 126 pounds in this first modern renewal of America's oldest derby.

Venetian Way, a 3½ length victor in the Kentucky Derby, and Tompion, who kicked a shoe half a mile from the Louisville classic finish line, both are rated 3-1 in the advance odds on the holiday race. Tompion was fourth at Kentucky and then was sent back to the farm for a rest, skipping the Preakness.

BALLY ACHE, second to Venetian Way in the Kentucky Derby, came back strong to win the Preakness easily with Venetian Way a poor fifth in a field of six. In previous meetings, Bally Ache holds a 3-1 edge over Tompion and a 5-2 margin on Venetian Way. A victory here and in next month's Belmont stakes would cinch the 3-year-old title for the Turfland Syndicate owned Bally Ache.

Pitt, asked if Bally Ache wasn't a bit weary after racing every Saturday since April 30, said, "nothing has been taken out of the horse. He had a month's rest after leaving Florida and none of the four races was really hard for him."

The trainer asserted:

"The stepping stone, a week before the Kentucky Derby, was an easy one. I would have had to work him anyhow, although it was a little faster than I would have had him go. In the Derby, he tired after a mile and when the jockey saw there wasn't a chance to catch Venetian Way he didn't punish him. So, the Derby, didn't take anything out of him. The Preakness prep wasn't even a good workout, and the Preakness was the easiest race he has had."

PITT SAID Bally Ache has a tough race when "somebody hooks him in the last quarter or three-eighths of a mile, like Venetian Way did in the Florida Derby." Bally Ache won a narrow decision.

Pitt still considers Venetian Way the horse to beat. He says the Sunny Blue farm colt merely had a bad day in the Preakness. "A lot of people fail to realize that horses can have good days and bad days."

The Green Dunes farm's Celtic Ash, to be ridden in the Jersey by Bill Hartack, worked out five furlongs Thursday in 1:03 handily. Pitt sees Celtic Ash—third in the Preakness—as an improving horse who will move up under Hartack's shrewd guidance. Celtic Ash is listed at 8-1 by the oddsmaker. Bourbon Prince, with Chris Rogers the rider, is rated 6-1 and Encanto with Walter Blum aboard, 20-1.

Bob Ussery, regular rider for Bally Ache, will again ride for Pitt, with John Rotz handling Tompion in the absence of Willie Shoemaker who has another engagement Memorial day.

KNIGHTS ROCK INDIANS, 4-1

Big Third Inning Gives North Penn B-M Triumph

North Penn's Knights exploded for a four-run spree in the top of the third inning Thursday, and handed Upper Perkiomen a 4-1 Bux-Mont league reversal at East Greenville.

The visitors from Lansdale coupled four singles with a walk, a sacrifice fly and a pair of stolen bases for their entire run production of the game.

Meanwhile, Jim Gordon pitched two-hit ball at the Indians, but lost his shutout in the fourth when Arlen Seasholtz was safe on a fielder's choice, stole second and was singled across by Joe Raymond for the Indians' lone run.

Hugh Rittenhouse started off the Knights' spree with a single and a stolen base. Joe Hamil singled to drive him across, and scored on Bo Robison's single.

ROBISON ALSO stole a base and scored on Otto Bohmueller's sacrifice fly.

Gordon walked, stole second and was singled across by George Brautman.

The loss was the 12th in a row for the winless Upper Perkiomen unit.

Big Saturday, Memorial Day Race Bills Carded On Hatfield Speedway

For Eastern racing fans, all roads lead to Hatfield Speedway on Memorial Day weekend.

Director George Marshman has arranged two holiday weekend events which should satisfy the racing appetite of any thrill-seeking glutton.

For Saturday evening, he has rescheduled the twice-postponed stock cars featuring the All-Star Racing club modifieds and the Bell Racing club strictly stocks. Rain checks from the past two weeks will be honored.

On Memorial Day, 8 p. m., in answer to the Indianapolis 500-mile classic, Marshman is planning something of a classic for Hatfield, a 4-for-1 show including modifieds, strictly stocks, ARDC-USAC midgets and a destruction derby. Each of the racing groups will appear in two heats and a feature event and more than 100 drivers will be on hand.

• • •

THE HATFIELD director this week negotiated the contract with the midgets, who are idle Monday following a championship race at Williams Grove on Sunday.

The East's top drivers—Lon Duncan, Dutch Schaefer, Red Riegel, Ernie McCoy, Bobby Marshman—will be in action. The only regular who'll be missing is Al Herman, scheduled to start at the Indianapolis brickyard.

Among the stock car favorites who'll be mixing it up are Dick Havens, Harry Moore, Jack Rudy, Rocky Ewing, Charley Decker, Eddy Horn, Ralph Detwiler and many others.

Jordan Favored To Retain Title In Las Vegas Go

LAS VEGAS, Nev., (AP)—Expert opinion shifted Thursday in favor of welterweight champion Don Jordan to retain his world title in a fight with Benny (Kid) Paret of Cuba Friday night.

A poll of boxing writers disclosed the 25-year-old champion from Los Angeles was almost a unanimous choice. But the betting line still favored the young Cuban, 9-5.

The 15-round engagement will start at 10 p.m., (Pottstown time) at Las Vegas' handsome new Convention Center. A crowd of around 5000 is expected.

Interest has picked up locally in the bout but the principals and promoters are still bucking the facts of life in Las Vegas.

• • •

IT'S HARD to beat such counter attractions as the 24-hour lure of the big gambling casinos and the World renowned talent, including the gorgeous bare-bosomed bells from the Continent now appearing on the city's fabulous strip.

Ex-gambling king Mickey Cohen, "Las Vegas' most uninvited guest" is here to see his friend Jordan fight but remains pretty much out of sight.

Sheriff W. E. (Butch) Leypoldt warned Cohen that if he made any misstep he would be "thrown in the pokey."

The fighter took it easy Thursday and neither faces any trouble making the 147-pound limit at weigh-in time Friday at 11 a.m.

Police Edge Jaycees In Softball Tilt 1-0

Cag Saylor, the softball nomad of Pottstown, pitched a shutout Thursday night as the Police edged the Jaycees, 1-0 at the Ringing Hill diamond.

Bill Yonkovitch was the losing hurler, though he surrendered but one run in a game dominated by superior hurling.

Saylor, who pitches a game on the average of once a night for as many teams, allowed but three hits.

JERRY BARBER IS SPEEDWAY GOLF LEADER

1st-Round 8-Under-Par 63 Tops Field in $50,000 Event

INDIANAPOLIS, (AP) — Little Jerry Barber roared around the Speedway golf course with a record breaking 8 under par 63 to pace Thursday's opening rounds in the $50,000 Invitational 500 Festival Open.

The five foot five inch, 137 pound Barber was three strokes ahead of the 150 player field. Which made a shambles of the par 35-36—71 course. The course record is 64 shot by Emil Mashie in 1942.

Bracketed at 66 were Doug Ford, Johnny Pott and Bob Goalby as the pros broke 70 with monotonous regularity over the Speedway course, which is dissected by the famous Indianapolis Auto Racing track.

"This is going to be a putting contest," observed Ford, the year's busiest practioner who is playing in his 20th event of 1960.

BARBER NEEDED only 25 putts as he banged eight birdies and was never worse than par on his 31-32 round.

Barber, the fourth ranking player in the year's overall money winning list with $22,591, is shooting for his third victory of the year. One of his previous triumphs was a $10,000 victory in the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas. The top prize in the Speedway carnival is $9,000.

Ten players were bracketed at 67, while eight had 68.

Among the players notched at 67, four strokes off the pace, were Ted Crowe, Ken Venturi, Pete Cooper, Gene Littler, Tommy Jacobs, Fred Wampler, Joe Walser, Jerry Puttman, Dow Finsterwald and Don Whitt.

In the group deadlocked at 68 was the top amateur, Ronnie Atwell, Indianapolis.

The year's top money winner, Masters Champion Arnold Palmer, was in a huge batch of 70 shooters. Palmer, along with Stan Leonard, who shot an eagle three on the 18th hole, played in the same three-some with the pace-setting Barber. Leonard also had a 70.

BOB COCHRAN GAINS 2 MORE TOURNEY WINS

Lone Yank Reaches Semis In British Amateur Affair

PORTRUSH, Northern Ireland (AP)—Bob Cochran, a 47-year old paper salesman from St. Louis and the last Yank in the field, swept through two more matches Thursday in brilliant fashion and reached the semifinals of the British Amateur golf championship.

The graying American's stamina in capturing two 18-hole matches Wednesday and Thursday has been the major surprise of this ancient tournament.

Most people thought his legs would let him down when it came to two rounds of stiff, competitive golf in one day. Cochran was the oldest of the final 16.

But the lithe, free-swinging Cochran proved them wrong again as he won both matches Thursday without any serious worry. He battered par (36-36—72) on the first nine in both matches, going out in 32 in the morning and 35 in the afternoon. He slipped after that but had his matches virtually sewed up at the turns.

• • •

COCHRAN HAMMERED John Duncan, 38-year-old Irish Amateur Open champion, 6 and 4, in the fifth round in the morning. Then he scored a 3 and 2 victory over 31-year-old Alan Thirlwell a British Walker cup player and former English Amateur champion, in the afternoon quarter-final.

He will meet Gordon Huddy, a 29-year-old Englishman and former Cambridge university captain, in one of Friday's 36-hole semifinals. All matches previously were over 18 holes.

Huddy won at the 19th hole over Colin MacLaine of Scotland in the morning and then defeated John Glover of England, 4 and 3.

Joe Carr, 37, a two-time winner of the title from Dublin, will takle Jimmy Walker, a 39-year-old Scot, in the other semifinal over the picturesque, 6842-yard royal Portrush course on the edge of the Atlantic ocean.

St. James finally broke the Church league rainout jinx and vaulted into second place with a 3-1 triumph over Emmanuel at Memorial park.

St. James thus displaced the club it vanquished in the No. 2 spot behind front-running Kimberton Lutheran, one of the three new entries in the league.

The Saints jumped on Don (no-hit) Detweiler for their first victory of the year, though he deserved a better fate.

Detweiler surrendered five hits while walking three and fanning 10. Only one of the three runs he was charged with was earned.

PAUL SALTZER and Mac Shirey split the pitching chores for St. James. Saltzer went 4⅔ innings, and allowed five hits and three walks. He was charged with Emmanuel's lone tally.

Detweiler drove in the tally with a single scoring Terry Grow.

Ozzie Hoff, Buff Schonely and Chick Hawk scored the St. James runs. Hawk also gained the winners' only RBI.

Optimists Blank Montgomery Elks In Knee-Hi, 4-0

Dale Leuthold allowed but two hits in a 10-strikeout mound performance Thursday night as the Pottstown Optimists blanked the Montgomery Elks, 4-0 at Memorial park.

The Optimists bunched all their scoring in a big fifth inning that broke up a scoreless duel between Leuthold and Williams of the Montgomery Elks.

Williams was tagged for seven hits during the five innings he worked. He surrendered two walks and fanned seven before giving way to Mickey Dwinchick, who finished up.

Daywalt Refuses To Drive Bryant Special in '500'

INDIANAPOLIS, (AP)—The Bryant Heating special—a race car which "lost" its driver — will run in the 500-mile Memorial Day race with a new man behind the wheel.

Jaws dropped around the Indianapolis Motor speedway Thursday when Jimmy Daywalt of Indianapolis announced he will not drive the Bryant entry after qualifying it at 143.214 miles an hour.

Speedway officials went into a hurried huddle and ruled Dempsey Wilson of Lawndale, Calif., will be allowed to drive the car in Monday's race.

But since Wilson hasn't had a chance to practice with the Bryant car, he may have to start at the tail end of the 33-car field, instead of 26th position earned by Daywalt.

ONLY ONCE before in recent years has a driver who qualified a speedway car failed to be in it on race day. That was in 1957, when Johnny Parsons replaced Dick Rathmann after Rathmann suffered an eye injury shortly before the race.

But Speedway rules say the car qualifies—not the driver—so Wilson will be allowed to start the Bryant entry in its fourth Memorial Day classic.

The 35-year-old Daywalt, who was burned severely last June in a racing wreck in Milwaukee, quit the car after giving it a carburation test run Wednesday. He said he could get only 137.5 miles an hour out of the car, and didn't feel safe about shifting of weights on the racer.

Daywalt has started six speedway races and finished three. He cracked up the other three times, hitting a different stretch of the track wall each time. He was "rookie of the year" in 1953.

Wilson, 33, has been in racing for 14 years, but he started in only one 500-mile event, finishing 15th in 1958.

Rule Change to Give All-Star Teams Total of 30 Players for 1960 Games

NEW YORK, (AP)—Thirty players—two more than the previous high—will be allowed each team for the two major league all-star baseball games this year, commissioner Ford Frick announced Thursday.

For the third straight year the players of the National and American league clubs will select the eight starting players for their respective teams.

The rival managers, Al Lopez of the American league champion Chicago White Sox and Walter Alston of the World champion Los Angeles Dodgers, name the 22 other players, including the starting pitchers.

Aside from increasing the number of players—last year 25 were allowed for the first game and 28 for the second—the only significant change in the rules governing the game is that a pitcher can work in only one of the games. Last year, Don Drysdale of the Dodgers started both games.

THE FIRST game this year is scheduled for Kansas City July 11 and the second at the Yankee stadium in New York July 13. The games will start at 1 P. M., local time. July 12 and 14 are open dates in case of postponement.

The eight starting players must remain in the game at least three innings, and the pitchers are limited to three-inning starts except those on the mound at the end of nine innings of a game which goes into extra innings.

In such a case they can continue at the discretion of the managers.

Last year, at the request of the players, two All-Star games were played for the first time, the National league winning 5-4 July 7 at Pittsburgh and the American winning 5-3 at Los Angeles. The American league now leads the series, 16-11.

The stadium game will mark the fifth time the contest has been played in the New York area. It was played in the Polo Grounds in 1934 and 1942, Yankee stadium in 1939, and in Ebbets field in Brooklyn in 1949.

The polls of the individual clubs will start around June 24, with the players instructed not to vote for mmebers of their own team.

Admission prices at Kansas City will be $8 for box seats, $6 for reserved grandstand seats, and $4 for standing room. At the stadium they will be $8.40 for boxes, $6.30 for grandstand reserved, $2.10 for bleachers and $4.20 for standing room.

Proceeds of the game will go to the central fund, from which 60 percent will be distributed to the players' pension fund and 40 percent to the club owners.

Pottstown High, Spring-Ford Girls Close Season With Softball Wins

Margie Peck's six-hit pitching and three hits, coupled with two hits each by Roxanne Foley and Judy Jacobs, led Pottstown High's girls to a 7-2 win over Owen J. Roberts at Buck town Thursday.

In other distaff activity Spring-Ford got one-hit pitching from Irene Kalmbach and sent Coatesville's girls home nursing a 5-2 loss at Royersford.

Miss Peck collected a double and two singles, scoring twice as the Trojanettes closed out their slate with a 4-4 record. Pat Faison and Gloria Rubright also each got two hits in the winning cause.

The Trojanettes roughed up Kitten hurler Ann Gorman for 16 hits, their second largest single-game production of the year.

They wrapped up the game with five runs in the first three innings.

At Royersford, the Ramettes scored twice each in the second and third, despite making only three hits during the game.

Ann Sharp led the run production with two as the Ramettes collected their sixth victory against a single loss to the undefeated Bearettes of Boyertown.

Reading Stocks Schedule Special Memorial Day Go

READING—The Reading Stock Car association has scheduled a special Memorial Day program for Monday night at the Reading Fairgrounds with a big field of cars and drivers going to the post beginning at 8:15 o'clock.

Co-promoters Lindy Vicari and Albert Gaspari, now in their sixth season, have jacked up the size of the feature from the regular 20 laps to 25 laps and will offer a trophy to the winner.

If past history is any indication, when a trophy is at stake, the members of the speed society take on new vigor and the tempo of the action quickens.

Warmups will begin at 8 o'clock and they'll be followed by three 10-lap qualifying heats, a 10-lap consolation and the 25-lap main event.

A field of upwards of 40 cars will be shooting for 24 berths in the feature and a shot at the big money at the end of the rainbow.

Heading the field will be Lancaster's Buzzy Richardson, the hottest item on the circuit right now. And he'll be joined by such standouts as Bobby Hersh, Bobby Blatt, Bobby Abel, Don Loder, Larry Valeriano, Russ Delp, Charley Bailey and many others.

Brownbacks Gets Fellowship Lead

Brownbacks softballers moved all alone into the Fellowship softball league lead Thursday night with an 11-7 victory over Pottstown First Brethren at the Ridge Fire company.

Jesse Painter and Earl Brungess split the pitching chores for the winners, who used a five-run fourth inning at the expense of loser Bill Hinnershitz to gain the victory.

Dick Trythall and Fred Painter each drove in two runs for the winners. Hinnershitz aided his own cause with three hits and two RBI.

The Brethren (now 3-1) staged a rally in the sixth that sent four runs across, but were blanked in the seventh by Brungess.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

High Market Jumps Indicate Selectivity Is Ruling Again

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Selectivity rules the stock market again.

That has been evident this week in the high jumps executed by some stocks—mainly the space age issues—while the averages have been drooping after an eight day advance.

"The dormant behavior of the steels, autos, rails, metals, and chemicals—favorites for so many years—is being overshadowed by the activity in leisure-time issues, electronics and other glamor areas," R. E. Buchsbaum of W. E. Hutton & Co. noted Thursday.

Buchsbaum said there is every reason to expect the pattern to continue until there are definite signs of an upturn in general business. He considers such indications aren't likely before the end of summer at the earliest.

"Whether or not there is a step-up in defense expenditures is probably immaterial to the electronics industry," he commented.

"Increased government spending is necessary if many of these small companies in a precarious financial position are to survive, but it is not necessary to promote dynamic new developments.

"Regardless of international tensions, the vogue in electronic stocks shows no sign of slackening in spite of increased price-earnings ratios at which the stocks are selling."

Bache & Co. asks: "How long can many selected issues continue to move ahead in view of the continuing pressure on a number of pivotal stocks.

The firm calls attention to the fact that in Wednesday's market action heavy selling was quite evident in such issues as Standard Oil (New Jersey) and Goodyear Tire.

"Should a break of consequence develop on the part of the Dow Jones industrial average," Bache says, "profit-taking throughout the entire list might be generated."

The investment firm, Thomson & McKinnon, comments that while some of the war stocks now enjoying popularity are good values, the group as a whole doesn't offer as much opportunity as the long-neglected building issues, selected rails, growth utilities, cements, steels, top-grade oils and, for those with a slightly longer outlook, machinery and heavy equipment stocks.

A. M. Kidder & Co. feels that the current sell-off is "little more than a natural stage of consolidation and correction preparatory to a renewal of the advance in sufficient force to test the approximate double top made by the industrial average in February and April."
